CIVIC AFFAIRS PROGRESS TOLD TO A. O. F. C. BODY

Three Committees — Garden, Winter Sports, Juvenile Bands—Make Their Reports

PLAN GARDEN CONTESTS

Would Offer Prizes—Juvenile Band Committee Shows Surplus in Treasury

Reports of the garden committee, the winter sports committee and the juvenile band committee were presented to the board of directors of the Association of Civic Bodies last night. The board members expressed appreciation of the work of all committees. Secretary Bradley reported.

The garden committee, C. L. Young, chairman, in a report proposed: To make recommendations to the public at stated intervals as to the kinds of flowers, and possibly shrubs, which can be grown successfully here, and giving other information; to have flower exhibits and offer prizes.

With regard to prize contests it was proposed in the report to have a tulip exhibit May 24, an iris and peony exhibit about June 16, a general perennial exhibit about the first of June, with special prizes probably for columbines, larkspur, various types of daisies and pansies; exhibit of annuals and gladioli about August 15; exhibit of asters and dahlias about Sept. 15.

The board accepted the report and granted the appropriation asked, which probably will not exceed $50.

Sports Body Report

The winter sports committee report, submitted by Benton Baker, S. W. Corwin and L. S. Craswell, chairman, said a permanent water main had been provided to the ball park and the warming house is fully equipped ready for use next winter, so that little work will be necessary to provide a skating rink next winter. The committee had also arranged to build a toboggan slide but lack of snow prevented.

Contributions to the fund were $684.60, and there is a slight balance on hand. The report said that the William Moore school cost the committee nothing, but the rink at St. Mary's was almost a total failure because water could not be retained. The ball park rink was much used, in spite of mild weather. The committee thanked L. F. Baker for granting use of the land free and L. W. Haggart for furnishing a building used as a warming house.

Band Committee

The juvenile band committee report was presented by Geo. D. Mann, chairman. The committee, in session April 10, recommended that the work be continued another year. The committee also extended its thanks to L. C. Sorlien, director, for his excellent work and remarkable progress he has made with the band and also suggested that the board of directors adopt resolutions commending his work and thanking the members of the Board of Education for their kind cooperation.

"Examination of the financial statement," the report continued, "indicates that there is no necessity to ask the Board of Education for additional funds as the juvenile band has been financed to date without a penny from the coffers of the Association and without making any solicitation for funds. With a concert scheduled for May 30th, sufficient funds will be secured to finance the work through until October first when another benefit can be easily arranged.

"The committee wish to thank the Board of directors for their earnest cooperation and the public for their patronage and support of this community civic enterprise."

The financial statement showed: Receipts, $1,989.17 from June 1, 1920 to April 1, 1921, from two band benefits, band concert of "Gold Star" band benefit, instruments sold and method and music sale.

Expenditures were shown to total $1,849.29, leaving a balance on April 1, 1921 of $139.88.

Valuable instruments owned by Association of Commerce were listed as follows: three baritone, two bass drums and cymbals, two ob oboes, three brass horns, one euphonium.

HEAR MR. DEVINE

The board also heard the proposal of Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor Devine for the sending of a Bismarck county exhibit to county fairs in states to the south to encourage immigration. The board took the matter under advisement.

The board authorized A. F. Bradley, secretary, to install a date archive, under which all organizations will be notified of coming events, so that conflicts may be avoided.

Wanda Stopa, Bohemia's "Golden Sun," Ends Brilliant Career by Murder, Suicide

Wanda Elaine Stopa

Remembered in Artist Colony For Her Splendid Work; Regarded as Intellectual Prodigy

BY GEORGE BRITT

Chicago, Ill., May 2.—On that bizarre, blue-terrace back of the studio who killed herself after committing murder and then taking her own life, Wanda Stopa, a girl of some three years ago, it is remembered that the girl painted a gorgeous yellow rising sun.

All the artists and near artists put their marks on that fence in the early summer, just after they had moved into the studio. The house was to be a real democracy of art and intellect, with no rules, except free and sprightly conversation.

But summer ended, the community broke up as a nest of jaded gossip and the house was razed. The startling back fence with its fringe of tomatoes, wild flowers, dancing nymphs and sunsets, went with the rest.

Into the studio's youthful atmosphere of wit and liberty came Wanda Stopa, fresh from home, MZXJA, a girl with an intellectual prodigy and of dominating emotional nature.

Just how impossible it proved for her to dive into that glowing haze without singing herself, body, mind and soul, it just now becomes apparent.

Golden Sun Has Fallen

The golden sun who painted herself to be in the morning of her emancipation has fallen from a heaven. It made its final plunge when she rushed, murder-bent, to the home of Y. Kenley Smith and in a frenzy shot his aged and unfeeling caretaker, Henry Manning.

Wanda's father was one of the best models in the sculpture studios, both here and abroad. Her mother was of titled Polish family, and her bearing today indicates that breeding. The home atmosphere was set at a high standard.

Wanda herself was kept diligently at her studies, and when admitted to the bar, a little more than three years ago, she was the state's youngest woman lawyer.

Then She Was Wied

About that time her parents returned to Poland on a visit, and Wanda moved to the little Bohemian of the North Side studio. Independence and individuality were the watchwords.

The parties usually were just beginning at midnight, to the disgust of the neighbors. One girl would smoke cigars instead of cigarettes, just to be different. Costumes mocked at styles and conformed to the wearer's taste.

Smith, the quiet, cynical advertising man lived in the studio that summer. Also his wife, a remarkable pianist.

Also Wanda met Vladimir Givon, who said he was a Russian count, and they were married.

TOWNLEY AND HASTINGS FREE OF STATE CASE

Judge Monson Holds Statute of Limitations Bars Prosecution at Fargo

CASES ARE DISMISSED

States Attorney Indicates That New Effort May Be Made Against Accused

Fargo, May 2.—The joint embezzlement charge referred by the state against A. C. Townley and J. J. Hastings, former Nonpartisan League officials, was formally dismissed in Judge Leigh Monson's court this morning on the ground of the North Dakota statute of limitations.

States Attorney Horner, however, declared that the question of bringing up the same action in another court is being considered and will be decided upon immediately after consultation with the Attorney General's office.

The statute, which Judge Monson held was applicable in this case, provides and requires that an action must be started within three years after the embezzlement is committed. The alleged embezzlement of funds, belonging to the Consumers United Stores, was committed, according to the testimony of the state, on September 3, 1918, and the complaint was filed by J. W. Brinton, former private counsel to Townley, on December 31, 1920.

The North Dakota statute provides that "an information for felony must be filed within three years after its commission. There is an exception, however. The law further provides that if when the time of the offense is committed the defendant is out of the state the information may be filed within the time herein limited, after his coming within the state, and no time during which the defendant is not an inhabitant of, or usually resident within the state is part of the limitations."

Bitter Fight

The whole question as to whether the statute was effective in this case hinged on interpretation of the latter paragraph. Today's decision brings to an end one of the bitter legal fights ever witnessed at a preliminary hearing in North Dakota courts.

W. S. Lander of Wahpeton and John E. Burke, attorneys for the defendant, and Special Prosecutor Arthur LeSueur and States Attorney Horner engaged in several hot verbal clashes, challenging each other as well as the defendants, relative to the operation of the Nonpartisan League during its control of the state administration.

SELECTION OF BUTLER AS CHAIRMAN OF G. O. P. MEANS EARLY CAMPAIGN

President Coolidge Understood to Favor Getting Into Action For November Battle Without Delay—Adams to Retire as G. O. P. Chairman

Washington, May 2.—(By the A. P.)—Republican leaders in Washington saw today in President Coolidge's designation of William Butler of Boston as his choice for the Republican national chairmanship an opportunity to give a running start to the party's presidential campaign. Close political observers of the President said this was the motive which actuated him in making the announcement last night that Mr. Butler was his choice for the chairmanship in view of the indicated desire of John T. Adams, the present chairman, to retire.

Mr. Coolidge has indicated that he regards his nomination as assured, and accordingly sees no reason why there should be any delay in getting the campaign ready for prompt inauguration immediately after the convention.

It is Mr. Coolidge's expectation that Mr. Butler, with whom he had an engagement today, will undertake immediately the preparation for the presidential campaign.

The selection of Mr. Butler as national chairman will not actually be made until after the Cleveland convention. The new chairman is elected by the new national committee. The committee, however, always ratifies the choice of the presidential candidate.

Cuban Government Invokes Treaty Right to Aid in Putting Down Rebellion

UPRISING CALLED FOR

Reports From Island Say Patriots Organization Calls for Revolt

Havana, Cuba, May 2.—The government today had 500 troops around Cienfuegos, near the chief center of the anti-Zayas movement, its warships were patrolling the coast and some of the morning reports declare that President Zayas had sent an urgent request to the United States government for 10 airplanes, to be used against the rebels.

The latest word from government officials was that the island was quiet, except around Cienfuegos and Trinidad, on the south coast of Santa Clara province, where it was claimed that not more than 50 to 60 men are in revolt, but El Sol, a morning paper which was temporarily suppressed some weeks ago for saying a revolution was being staged, declared today that the Veterans and Patriots Association had ordered an uprising throughout the island. It was believed to be an effort to forestall such a movement that the government arrested five leaders here and several states of others in Santa Clara.

Washington, May 2.—President Coolidge issued today a proclamation declaring an embargo on arms shipments to Cuba, effective immediately.

The action was taken at the request of the Cuban government, which formally called the attention of the Washington government to the conditions of violence existing in Cuba. The state department also said information had been received that certain arms and munitions were being accumulated in various parts of Florida for possible export to Cuba to be used in an insurrection.

CANDIDACY OF MISS PALMER IS ANNOUNCED

Formally Enters Race For State Superintendent of Public Instruction

STATES HER VIEWS

Miss Bertha R. Palmer, whose resignation as assistant state superintendent of public instruction was submitted recently because, she stated, of differences with the policies of the department, today confirmed reports that she will become a candidate for the office of state superintendent of public instruction in the June 25 primary.

"Some ten days ago when an announcement was made of my resignation from the Department of Public Instruction, I stated I did not know whether or not I would be a candidate for the office of Superintendent of public instruction," Miss Palmer said. "Since that time letters from all parts of the state and personal interviews have led me to decide to be a candidate for that office."

At the time of Miss Palmer's resignation she said that the matter of her candidacy rested largely with her friends and other developments.

States Her Views

Miss Palmer has declined to enter into controversial discussion of the reasons which impelled her to resign from the state department, but set forth her views of the manner in which she believes the office should be conducted, in an interview here.

"I believe that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction should be a leader in Education and should counsel, but not dictate, state or county policies," said Miss Palmer.

"I believe that the Department of Public Instruction should be so organized that the public may receive efficient service from the office and in the field with the least possible waste of time, energy, and expense."

"I believe that the school business of the county should be handled by the County Superintendent; the Department of Public Instruction being the court of last resort, thereby saving delays which cost in time and money."

"I believe that the cost of teachers' institutes may be greatly reduced and their value increased by (1) having a definite program, (2) limiting the number of outside speakers, (3) economically planned itineraries for conductors and speakers."

"I believe that the cost may be reduced and the schools benefited by (1) Attention to care of property and other local details, (2) Change in sentiment and laws regarding transportation of pupils, (3) Reducing, for the time at least, the course of study in Grades and High Schools to fundamental subjects, only; and eliminating duplication of courses in the present system."

"Discouraging social and athletic affairs in Junior and Senior High Schools, which cost the parents cash and the pupils energy, vitality, and time that should be spent on studies for which the parents are paying."

"Systematic campaigns in every county and community to reduce the tremendous waste from daily non-attendance in the grades."

"I believe that where there is but one dollar to spend, but one dollar should be spent."

"I believe in courtesy, appreciation and co-operation in all personal and professional relations."

WILL REMAIN FOR SIX WEEKS

Dr. J. B. Hollenbeck, U. S. Inspector stationed in the offices of the State Livestock Sanitary Board, who is in California assisting in the campaign against the hoof and mouth disease, has informed friends here that he expects to remain there for six weeks more.

INCREASE OF TEACHING LOAD IS CONSIDERED

The State Board of Administration is considering the matter of asking educational institutions in the state to increase the teaching load four hours a week so as to avoid the necessity of engaging new instructors to take care of the increased enrollment. R. B. Murphy, chairman of the board, said today.

The matter already has been discussed with Dr. J. L. Coulter, president of the Agricultural College; Dr. George McFarland, president of the Minot Normal, and President Allen of the Valley City Teachers College, and will be discussed with other education heads within the next two weeks. All of those with whom the proposition has been discussed have expressed willingness to cooperate to the fullest extent with the board in efforts to enforce the most rigid economy in the conduct of the state's institutions," Mr. Murphy said.

"All of the educational institutions during the past year reported greatly increased attendance over all previous records and agree that the coming year will bring still further increases in enrollment," he continued. "The board has given considerable attention to the question of eliminating or consolidating small classes in the institutions, and believes by doing this and increasing the teaching load of instructors the general efficiency of institutions may be maintained at a high standard."

LADD PRIZE WINNER LEAVES

Grand Forks, N. D., May 2.—Duane Squires, of Grand Forks, who won the Ladd prize contest which was recently sponsored in the state by Senator E. F. Ladd, has left for Washington, D. C., where he is to be entertained for ten days by Senator Ladd.

Mr. Squires, given this prize in the expense of the senator as a prize in the essay contest, the senator sponsored on the subject "The Functions of Government." He expects to spend Friday evening and Saturday in Chicago, and from there will go by way of Pittsburg direct to Washington, arriving there at a clock Sunday afternoon.

During his ten days at the capitol Mr. Squires is to be the guest of Senator Ladd and about the city as well as being a guest at different functions. On his return he is expected to visit New York and Philadelphia.

SENATE TRIES SPEEDING UP OF TAX BILL

Night Sessions Are Threatened by Smoot Unless Progress Is Made

Washington, May 2.—(By the A. P.)—Entering the second week of consideration of the tax reduction bill, the Senate tried again today to speed up the discussion with spokesmen of both parties urging prompt action.

Democrats at a conference last night went on record favoring a speed up program while Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, in charge of the bill for the majority, late yesterday threatened night sessions to expedite disposal of the measure.

As a result of two conferences, the Democrats were prepared today to make a practically united stand for the Simmons income tax schedule and changes in the corporation and estate taxes. The main contest will center on these provisions, although an extended fight for greater publicity of tax returns also has been indicated.

SAYS PRE-WAR STUFF SERVED AT DINNERS

Kenesaw Mountain Landis Gives Committee "Dope" on Prohibition

Washington, May 2.—With the picturesque emphasis that made him famous long before it took him from the federal bench to become baseball's high commissioner, Kenesaw Mountain Landis today gave the Senate Doughty committee his opinion on prohibition enforcement and other administrative affairs. They have been dealt with by the Department of Justice.

At dinner parties in Chicago, he said, pre-war stuff still appeared to be holding out remarkably well, and he confessed that he himself had been able to resist the enticing invitation of his lawless to try some of it. But, he added that the Department of Justice appeared to be doing the best it could in view of the fact that it did not always have the best of lawyers on its payroll.

Called to testify before the house of corrections sentenced he passed upon Philip Grossman for liquor law violations, he said he could not tell for his life how Grossman got his pardon from President Coolidge. He thought Fred Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee, and other Republican leaders in Chicago ought to be criticized and he told the committee in a way no one could understand that he believed that politics should have no more to do with executive clemency than with decisions handed down from the bench.

Then, under the urge of a sharp cross-examination, he got up from the witness stand, and strode up and down the room, and between puffs on a long black stogie, summed up and reiterated all his statements about the Grossman case and the conduct of the Department of Justice in general.

When the committee was satisfied he departed with an invitation to all of its members to come along with him and see a ball game.

NEW TRIALS SOON

Grand Forks, N. D., May 2.—A panel of 40 jurors to report in the Grand Forks district court, May 22, has been called by the clerk of court. They will be used in the trial of the remaining Scandinavian-American bank cases which are scheduled to be resumed here at that time before Judge W. J. Kneechaw.

Help Make Custer Park Beauty Spot

Those in charge of promoting Custer Park ask the cooperation of the citizens in protecting the trees, flower beds and other features. Children who play there are asked to keep off the flower beds and not mutilate the trees.

Mrs. W. E. Cole is chairman of the park committee and plans are under way to develop this park and make it more useful to the public. The east end of the park which is now unimproved offers wonderful possibilities without much expense.

SEES HUGE INCREASE IN CORN ACREAGE IN NORTHERN BURLEIGH

Wheat acreage in northern Burleigh county will be cut 20 percent this year, in the opinion of Frank Barnes, representative of the City National Bank, who has just quitted the territory.

Other crops, particularly corn, will show an increase, Mr. Barnes said. There has been, he said, a marked increase in the number of brood sows and dairy cattle, and an unusually large hog production is expected in the northern part of the county this year.

Four-fifths of the wheat was seeded in northern Burleigh county before the recent crop, he said, and moisture conditions are declared to be the best in years at this time. Much of the early wheat has sprouted and is through the ground.

The corn acreage in northern Burleigh and Kidder counties and southern Sheridan county will be tripled this year, Mr. Barnes declares.

He also reported a number of prospective settlers from the east have visited the territory, and asserted that one or two more good corn crops was all that was necessary to bring in the outsiders, who make diligent inquiries about corn raising. A number of farmers have moved into the northern part of the county recently, he added.

LAST KILLING FROST MAY 11

The records of the United States Weather Bureau of this city, going back to 1875, show that the average date of the last killing frost in the spring is May 11, says R. D. Hoskins, who figured out the date. Last year it took place on May 8. The information is given by Mr. Hoskins for the benefit of local gardeners and flower culturists.

Sees Victory In The Primary

D. E. Shipley, recently endorsed for the office of Secretary of State, was in Bismarck today meeting friends and discussing affairs with various state officials. Mr. Shipley, who has been in various parts of the state recently, declares that conditions are favorable for a big victory for the ticket named at Jamestown recently. He expects to make, with other candidates, an active campaign before the June 25 primary.

Reports of the garden committee the winter sports committee and the juvenile band committee were presented to the board of directors of the Association of Commerce in session last night. The board members expressed appreciation of the work of all committees. Secretary Bradley reported.

The garden committee, C. L. Young chairman, in a report proposed:
To make recommendations to the public at stated intervals as to the kinds of flowers, and possibly shrubs, which can be grown successfully here, and giving other information; to have flower exhibits and offer prizes.

With regard to prize contests it was proposed in the report to have a tulip exhibit May 24, an iris and peony exhibit about June 15, a general perennial exhibit about the last of June, with special prizes probably for columbines, larkspur, various types of daisies and pansies; exhibit of annuals and gladioli about August 15; exhibit of asters and dahlias about Sept. 15.

The board accepted the report and granted the appropriation asked, which probably will not exceed $50.

Sports Body Report

The winter sports committee report, submitted by Bentley Baker, S.
W. Corwin and L. S. Craswell, chairman, said a permanent water main had been provided to the ball park and the warming house is fully equipped ready for use next winter, so that little work will be necessary to provide a skating rink next winter. The committee had also arranged to build a toboggan slide but lack of snow prevented.

Contributions to the fund were $664.50, and there is a slight balance on hand. The report said that the William Moore school cost the committee nothing, but the rink at St.
Mary's school was almost a total failure because water could not be retained. The ball park rink was much used, in spite of mild weather. The committee thanked I. P. Baker for granting use of the land free and G.
W. Haggart of Fargo for a building used as a warming house.

Band Committee

The juvenile band committee report was presented by Geo. D. Mann, chairman. The committee, in session April 10, recommended that the work be continued another year. The committee also extended its thanks to L.
C. Sorlien, director, "for his excellent work and remarkable progress he has made with the band" and also suggested "that the board of directors adopt resolutions commending his work and thanking the members of the Board of Education for their kind cooperation."

"Examination of the financial statement," the report continued,
"indicates that there is no necessity to ask the Board of Education for additional funds as the juvenile band has been financed to date without a penny from the coffers of the Association and without making any solicitation for funds. With a concert scheduled for May 30th, sufficient funds will be secured to finance the work through until October first when another benefit can be easily arranged."

"The committee wish to thank the Board of directors for their earnest cooperation and the public for their patronage and support of this community civic enterprise."

The financial statement showed:
Receipts, totaling $1,080.17, from June 1, 1923 to April 1, 1924, from two band benefits, band concert offering, "Gold Star" band benefit, instruments sale and methods and music sale.

Expenditures were shown to total $1,849.29, leaving a balance on April 1, 1924 of $139.88.

Valuable instruments owned by Association of Commerce were listed as follows: three baritone, two bass drums and cymbals, two eb altos, three bass horns, one melophone.

The board also heard the proposal of Commissioner of Agriculture and

States Attorney Indicates That New Effort May Be Made Against Accused

Fargo, May 2.—The joint embezzlement charge preferred by the state against A. C. Townley and J. J. Hastings, former Nonpartisan League officials, was formally dismissed in Judge Leigh Monson's court this morning on the ground of the North Dakota statute of limitations.

States Attorney Horner, however, declared that the question of bringing up the same action in another court is being considered and will be decided upon immediately after consultation with the Attorney-General's office.

The statute, which Judge Monson held was applicable in this case, provides and requires that an action must be started within three years after the embezzlement is committed.
The alleged embezzlement of funds, belonging to the Consumers United Stores, was committed, according to the testimony of the state, on September 5, 1918, and the complaint was filed by J. W. Brinton, former private secretary to Townley, on December 31, 1923.

The North Dakota statute provides that "an information for felony must be filed within three years after its commission." There is an exception, however. The law further provides that "if within the time of the offense is committed the defendant is out of the state the information may be filed within the time herein limited, after his coming within the state, and no time during which the defendant is not an inhabitant of, or usually resident within the state" is part of the limitations.

the statute was effective in this case hinged on interpretation of the latter paragraph. Today's decision the defendant, and Special Prosecutor Arthur LeSueur and States Attorney Horner engaged in several hot verbal clashes, each challenging each other as well as the defendants, relative to the operation of the Non-partisan League during its control of the state administration.

SENATE TRIES
OF TAX BILL

Night Sessions Are Threatened by Smoot Unless Progress Is Made

Washington, May 2.—(By the A.
P.)—Entering the second week of consideration of the tax reduction bill, the Senate tried again today to speed up the discussion with spokesmen of both parties urging prompt action.

Democrats at a conference last night went on record favoring a speed-up program while Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, in charge of the bill for the majority, late yesterday threatened night sessions to expedite disposal of the measure.

As a result of two conferences, the Democrats were prepared today to make a practically united stand for the Simmons income tax schedule and changes in the corporation and estate taxes. The main contest will center on these provisions, although an extended fight for greater publicity of tax returns also has been indicated.

ers are offering $50 a month wages.

SEES HUGE INCREASE IN CORN ACREAGE IN NORTHERN BURLEIGH

Wheat acreage in northern Burleigh county will be cut 20 percent this year, in the opinion of Frank Barnes, representative of the City National Bank, who has just convalesced the territory.

Other crops, particularly corn, will show an increase, Mr. Barnes said.
There has been, he said, a marked increase in the number of broad beans and dairy cattle, and an unusually large hog production is expected in the northern part of the county this year.

Four-fifths of the wheat was seeded in northern Burleigh county before the recent snow, he said, and

UNION LABEL LAW TEST MAY BE INSTITUTED

Attorney for Editorial Association Appears Before Printing Commission

BIDS ARE RECEIVED

John F. Sullivan of Mandan, as attorney for the North Dakota Editorial Association and representing at the time the interests of Walker Brothers of Fargo, served notice on the state printing and publication commission at its meeting here yesterday that steps probably would be taken to test the Union Label Law, under which the typographical union label is required to appear on all state documents. S. S. McDonald, and Charles L. Crum, attorney, appearing for the Bismarck Typographical Union, resisted any consideration of bids for printing from non-union shops.

This was the only flurry at the session of the printing commission which sat yesterday to receive and tabulate biennial bids. No awards were made nor will be until Frank Milhollan, member of the commission, returns to the city. He was unable to be present at the session yesterday.

Mr. Crum started the ball rolling by insisting that all bids from non-union shops be rejected without refusing opened. Mr. Sullivan retorted that the bids should be received and intimated strongly that the validity of the law would be tested.

President Dodson of Walker Brothers, in reply to a suggestion made by Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor J. A. Kitchen that he insist that the bid being opened and read, and especially a letter accompanying it.

Thomas Hall, chairman pro tem of the commission, settled the issue by stating that all bids would be received, opened and read and any legal bid that might follow would be settled in the Attorney-General's office. This action prevailed and the bids were read. Some very close bids resulted. Firms bidding included Walker Brothers, Knight Printing Company, Fargo; Globe-Gazette, Wahpeton; Normand-en, Grand Forks; Quick Print and Tribune Company, Bismarck.

Adjournment was taken until next Wednesday at 2 p. m. when contracts will be awarded.

Grand Jury, D. N., May 2.—A panel of 30 jurors to report in the Grand Forks district court, May 22, has been called by the clerk of court.
They will be used in the trial of the remaining Scandinavian-American bank cases which are scheduled to be resumed here at that time before Judge W. J. Kneeshaw.

Help Make Custer

Those in charge of promoting Custer Park ask the cooperation of the citizens in protecting the trees, flowdren who play there are asked to keep off the flower beds and not mutilate the trees.

Mrs. W. E. Cole is chairman of the park committee and plans are under way to develop this park and make it more useful to the public. The east end of the park which is now unimproved offers wonderful possibilities without much expense.

SELECTION OF BUTLER AS CHAIRMAN OF G. O. P. MEANS EARLY CAMPAIGN

President Coolidge Understood to Favor Getting Into Action For November Battle Without Delay—Adams to Retire as G. O. P. Chairman

Washington, May 2.—(By the A.
P.)—Republican leaders in Washington saw today in President Coolidge's designation of William Butler of Boston as his choice for the Republican national chairmanship an opportunity to give a definite start to the party's presidential campaign.

Close political observers of the President said this was the motive which actuated him in making the announcement last night that Mr.
Butler was his choice for the chairmanship in view of the indicated desire of John T. Adams, the present chairman, to retire.

Mr. Coolidge has indicated that he regards his nomination as assured, and accordingly sees no reason why there should be any delay in getting the campaign ready for prompt inauguration immediately after the convention.

It is Mr. Coolidge's expectation that Mr. Butler, with whom he has an engagement today, will undertake immediately the preparation for the presidential campaign.

The selection of Mr. Butler as national chairman will not actually be made until after the Cleveland convention. The new chairman is elected by the new national committee.
The committee, however, always ratifies the choice of the presidential candidate.

CANDIDACY OF MISS PALMER IS ANNOUNCED

Formally Enters Race For State Superintendent of Public Instruction

STATES HER VIEWS

Miss Bertha R. Palmer, whose resignation as assistant state superintendent of public instruction was submitted recently because, she stated, of differences with the policies of the department, today confirmed reports that she will become a candidate for the office of state superintendent of public instruction in the June 25 primary.

"Some ten days ago when announcement was made of my resignation from the Department of Public Instruction, I stated I did not know whether or not I would be a candidate for the office of Superintendent of public instruction," Miss Palmer said, "Since that time letters from all parts of the state and personal interviews have led me to decide to be a candidate for that office."

At the time of Miss Palmer's resignation she said that the matter of her candidacy rested largely with her friends and other developments.

States Her Views

Miss Palmer has declined to enter into controversial discussion of the reasons which impelled her to resign from the state department, but set forth her views of the matter in which she believes the office should be conducted, in an interview here.

"I believe that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction should be a leader in Education and should counsel, not dictate, state or county policies," said Miss Palmer.

"I believe that the Department of Public Instruction should be so organized that the public may receive efficient service from the office and in the field with the least possible waste of time, energy, and expense."

"I believe that the school business of the county should be handled by the County Superintendent; the Department of Public Instruction being the court of last resort, thereby saving delays which cost in time and money."

"I believe that the cost of Teachers' Institutes may be greatly reduced and their value increased by:
(1) having a definite program, (2) limiting the number of outside speakers, (3) economically planning itineraries for conductors and speakers."

"I believe that the cost may be reduced and the schools benefited by:
(1) Attention to care of property and other local details.
(2) Change in sentiment and laws regarding transportation of pupils.
(3) Reducing, for the time at least, the course of study in Grades and High Schools to fundamental subjects, only; and eliminating duplication of courses in the present system."

(5) Systematic campaigns in every county and community to reduce the tremendous waste from daily non-attendance in the grades.
"I believe that where there is but one dollar to spend, but one dollar should be spent."

"I believe in courtesy, appreciation, and co-operation in all personal and professional relations."

Cuban Government Invokes

ting Down Rebellion

Reports From Island Say Patriots Organization Calls for Revolt

Havana, Cuba, May 2.—The government today had 500 troops around Cienfuegos, near the chief center of the anti-Zayas movement, its warships were patrolling the coast and some of the morning reports declare that President Zayas had sent an urgent request to the United States government for 10 airplanes to be used against the rebels.

The latest word from government officials was that the island was quiet, except around Cienfuegos and Trinidad, on the south coast of Santa Clara province, where it was claimed that not more than 50 to 60 men are in revolt, but that Sol, a morning paper which was temporarily suppressed some weeks ago for saying a revolution was being staged, declared today that the Veterans and Patriot Association had ordered an uprising throughout the island. It was believed to be in an effort to forestall such a movement that the government arrested five leaders here and several scores of others in Santa Clara.

Washington, May 2. President Coolidge issued today a proclamation declaring an embargo on arms shipments to Cuba, effective immediately.

The action was taken at the request of the Cuban government, which formally called the attention of the Washington government to the "conditions of violence" existing in Cuba. The state department also said information had been received that certain arms and munitions were being accumulated in various parts of Florida for possible export to Cuba to be used in an insurrection.

WOMEN'S CLUBS
END SESSION

The Seventh District of the Federated Clubs closed its annual meeting with the banquet which was given at the Lewis and Clark hotel last evening when 110 club women of the district and a few guests from this city assembled at the banquet hall.

The afternoon's session was most interesting. Misses Minnie and Hazel Nielson gave talks about their special lines of work. It was proved by various reports given during the day that the eradication of illiteracy was perhaps the most important achievement of the club women of the past year. Mrs. John Hillius was introduced by Miss Hazel Nielson and she told for herself the blessings of being able to read and write, which achievement she has only been granted during the past two years.

Mrs. Hillius told how during the time her sons were in the recent war she was obliged to go to her neighbors to have letters both written and read. She is a splendid type of the man and her story bears out the importance of the effort the Clubs are taking to reduce illiteracy to the very minimum.

Governor R. A. Nestos made a splendid address to the Club women at the session, which was held yesterday afternoon at the Palace theatre which was crowded. Following his talk moving pictures were shown relating to the beautiful scenery of the West. The beauties of the Yellowstone Park were given in a series of films depicting the animal life and natural scenery.

Elect President

At the election of officers which was held Mrs. E. L. Simmons of New England was elected president for the year to succeed Mrs. Nickerson, whose term expires in October.

The program arranged for the banquet was a very clever arrangement of speeches in keeping with the day.
Mrs. W. H. Stutsman was given the title of announcer for the evening and she was most clever and witty in her introduction of the speakers.

Miss Florence Connolly and sister, Mrs. Cain sang two delightful numbers. The talks were all most inspiring and Mrs. C. I. Cook, of Beach, in her subject, "Signing Off" made an excellent talk.

Chorus singing was lead by Miss Eunice Stevens of Mandan and Miss Mathilda Hess was accompanist.

Sees Victory
In The Primary

D. E. Shipley, recently inducted for the office of Secretary of State, was in Bismarck today meeting friends and discussing affairs with various state officials. Mr. Shipley, who has been in various parts of the state recently, declares that conditions are favorable for a big victory for the ticket named at Jamestown recently. He expects to make, with other candidates, an active campaign before the June 25 primary.

MILK SUPPLY OF BISMARCK IS HELD GOOD

Expert Speaks Here; Urges City Ordinance Governing Milk Be Redrafted

Miss N. G. Betz of the American Dairy Association of New York spoke to an interested, though not very large, audience at the city hall, under the auspices of the state health department on the follow-up work of the milk survey made in the state last October.

Miss Betz proved to be an interesting and instructive speaker. She brought before her audience the fact that though the milk of the present season was rated as fifty per cent. as good as the milk of the last season, it was not as good as the milk of the last season. She stated that the milk of the last season was of a very high quality due to the low count of bacteria. Miss Betz while here examined the reports of the past five months and stated that all the large dairies of the city were of a high standard and plentifully equipped and that a city of this size (Bismarck) people were fortunate to have a laboratory of our county and tests of our milk made each week.

A number of questions were brought out in the course of the address that were of interest to all who in any way consume milk.

It has been established, stated Miss Betz, that in percent of the American dairy, a great product while it should be 12 percent; 20 percent is milk and this should be 14 percent. Miss Betz said the highest milk count of any dairy in the country is 12 percent. She said that the three grades of milk are on the market today: sterilized, pasteurized and raw. The latter two are the only grades for sale in our local dairies. A milk whose bacteria count runs above 100,000 is not safe for consumption and an effort should be made to bring this down. A count of 50,000 is exceptionally good and up to 20,000 is a splendid grade of milk, she said.

Miss Betz made a strong appeal for the city ordinance relating to the milk supply, to be revised and brought up to date. She suggested that E. M. Stanton meet with a representative group of the citizens and draft an ordinance which should be presented to the city commissioners. Miss Betz said she called upon the mayor and in the interview he expressed his interest in the subject and was willing to do all in his power in favor of such action.

At the close of the meeting Miss Mary Cahill, executive secretary of the Red Cross was appointed to take the matter before the community council at its meeting next Saturday for action on the subject. The meeting closed with a round table discussion at which a number of interesting points were brought before the minds of the milk consumers.

CHANGES URGED IN FARM LOAN LAW OF STATE

In the mill and elevator but also in the office force and the sales force inside and outside of the state—but in computing this loss it is well to analyze the figures and to determine the various contributing factors.

Home Builders Method

With regard to the method used in the home builders' accounts the report says:

Under a Supreme Court decision in the case of E. Wallace Home-Building Co. it was held that where the original estimate of contract price on a building project exceeded $5,000, the prospective bidder could neither hold the state to delivery on the estimated price, nor could the purchaser be compelled to pay the construction costs disclosed by the books. Accordingly it became necessary for the Industrial Commission to cause appraisements of the various projects to be made by competent authorities, to determine the reasonable value of the properties, and the settlements so far entered into have been made in accordance with this policy. After determining the value the purchaser is charged interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum on such amount for the period he has occupied the premises, together with taxes and insurance paid by the commission, the purchaser being credited with all payments made, with interest, and given a further counter-claim allowance for the money expended by him in construction costs.

The net loss on settlements made to December 31, 1923, averaged $2,825.88 per house; and it is likely that such an average loss will prevail on the forty-two settlements in progress. The book costs greatly exceeding the actual value of the properties.

Under the method of settlement adopted by the Industrial Commission the property is conveyed to the purchaser by warranty deed, who delivers a mortgage and note to cover the equity of the state.

ASK VOLSTEAD LAW BE KEPT

Springfield, Ill., May 1.—A petition to Congress to permit no modification of the prohibition amendment was approved unanimously by the conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The resolution, proposed by Judge Charles A. Pollock, delegate from North Dakota, was amended before passage to include a request to the board of bishops for a committee to committee of the Senate and ask for a hearing in Congress.

Attempts to emasculate and destroy the effect of the prohibition amendment were being made, Judge Pollock's resolution declared, and the general conference desired to remind Congress that the amendment was "not a mere piece of political machinery."

SEES BUSINESS BETTER AFTER FALL ELECTION

Judge E. G. Gary, President of Steel Corporation, Gives Business Views

New York, May 1.—Substantial improvement in business after election, or perhaps a month before, was predicted today by Elbert Gary, chairman of the U. S. Steel Corporation, in announcing that the company's earnings for the first quarter of 1924 totaled $50,075,444. This represented an increase of $110,465 over the last three months of 1923, and $16,256,376 over the corresponding period last year.

Estimating the extent of the current recession in trade, Mr. Gary said he believed new business on April 1 was at least ten percent less than four or six weeks before, and further drop of from 5 to 10 percent.

Directors of the steel corporation today declared an extra dividend of 50 cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly payment of 1.15 percent on the common stock. This action, the same as taken in the preceding quarter, the head of the corporation explained, did not justify the assumption that the stock had been placed on a seven percent annual basis. The policy of the corporation, outlined in 1912, he said, was to pay 5 percent annually, with extra dividends as conditions warranted.

Conditions Never Better

"Fundamental conditions were never better," asserted Mr. Gary in explaining that he saw no good reason for a depression of business in this country.

Expenditures of not less than $6,000,000, or $7,000,000 a month by the U. S. Steel Corporation in improving and expanding its properties, said its chairman, showed the confidence of the management in the future of business—not for the next week or the next month, but for the next several years.

WHEAT HOLDS UP IN PRICE

Early Strength Better Than Was Expected

Chicago, May 1. Although delivery on May contracts today, 2,851,000 bushels, were even heavier than had been looked for the market soon after the opening showed a tendency to rise. Absence of any unusual selling pressure helped rally prices. Moreover, reports were at hand that Canadian and Argentine offerings at Liverpool were heavier, that Germany was in need of much wheat and that the wheat crop in France had been greatly overestimated. Initial quotations here, which ranged from one-fourth cent decline to advance, with May $1.03 1/4, and July $1.05 1/4 to $1.04 and July $1.05 7/8 to $1.06.

Subsequently the market scored an additional upturn, purchases of wheat for mills being the best in some weeks. Besides, new private crop estimates were bullish. The close was firm, one-fourth to three-eighths to three-fourths to seven-eighths cents higher. May $1.03 7/8 to $1.04 and July $1.05 7/8 to $1.06.

SCIENTIST IS ALWAYS ON TRIAL IN WORK

O. A. Stevens, President North Dakota Academy of Science Cites Progress

Fargo, N. D., May 2.—Punishment for death was meted to men in olden days for their venturing to advance some new idea in science, education or religious belief and even in the present day scientists are constantly on trial, declared O. A. Stevens, biologist at the North Dakota Agricultural college, in an address before the North Dakota Academy of Science of which association he is president.

The scientist, especially the experiment station worker, is constantly on trial, Mr. Stevens stated, as in critical periods like the present the demand becomes acute for practical information leading toward immediate relief of unfavorable economic conditions.

"The experiment stations were founded to increase our knowledge of conditions affecting agriculture of our country and to distribute such knowledge to the people," said Mr. Stevens.

"To many people the function of an agricultural college is to teach the boys of twenty to farm more successfully than their fathers at fifty. If this result is not accomplished the college has aided in its purpose, yet they do not actually expect that it will be accomplished. In the minds of many, the experiment station should be a practical demonstration of improved methods, a paying proposition. This is a mistaken conception of the case.

"The primary function of the station is to study fundamental principles, to make thorough analyses of conditions so that we shall know what is not practical as well as what is. By the very nature of the case, such work can not be expected to return profit as a whole. Efforts toward immediate practical results tend to neglect of fundamentals, and work so conducted is likely to prove insufficient and to require repetition at some future time.

"One of the chief difficulties is that of haste. It is hard to realize how slowly permanent progress is made. This is a strenuous life, an impatient age.

"The scientist engaged in the production of new varieties of plants is especially on trial. We demand a wheat that is more resistant to rust, a flax which is not subject to wilt and has a greater oil content, a corn which will grow as large in ninety days as another does in an hundred and twenty.

"These are not brought forth by magic of magic wand. They require time for testing out their qualities. If some one produces such new forms, gives them out at once and they fail, he is condemned. If he holds them for a long trial he fares little better.

Must Repay Money

Now the district court decision holds such tax payment was not necessary, and the Cass county treasurer is ordered to repay the whole sum to the Security National bank.

It will be recalled that in a certain act passed by the legislature in 1919, when it was controlled by the Non-partisan league, all "stocks and hands" were exempted from property taxation, and this had the effect of exempting banks from taxation.

However, the banks agreed upon the payment of a certain tax, based on the rate of taxation applied against property of like nature, and a great majority of the banks in the state paid.

CITIZENS HELP GOOD NAME BY HOSPITALITY

Rotarians of District Send Back Kind Words For Treatment Received Here CITY IS WELL REPAID

Bismarck Advertiser Itself as Live, Hospitable Community. Notices Show

Bismarck Rotarians and other Bismarck citizens who endeavored to make the visit of 800 Rotarians here for the Ninth district conference welcome may feel that their efforts were not in vain.

The Tribune has received numerous letters and copies of newspapers in other cities, praising Bismarck highly for the manner in which the conference was entertained.

The Fergus Falls Tribune, under a heading, "Bismarck, Best Rotarian Host, Welcomes District Clubs to Dakota Ozone" has particularly high praise for the city.

The optimism of North Dakota people evidently sank into the minds of visiting Rotarians, for the Fergus Falls Tribune says:

"Snow covered the northern half of North Dakota last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and there was nobody to deny the comment that it was worth several million dollars to the state. It was a snowstorm to brag about in any state, and left a thick er blanket of white than any previous snowfall of the winter.

"Those who imagine North Dakota feels chastened by her recent years of poor crops, poorer prices, political and internal turmoil have another thing coming. She is the cockiest of states. There is nobody who does not say at once, when challenged, 'Yes, we have been handicapped, and what has been done, and the political row has been fierce, but most of the trouble is just now. We still have the land, you know, and we haven't tacked on any additional prices in spite of the inflation in Montana and South Dakota.'

The editor refers to boasts he heard of during increase, and other good things about the state, from North Dakotans.

"Bismarck was a perfect host," says the same paper. "Its displays were brilliant and beautiful. Its intelligent courtesy and forthrightness were in evidence at every turn. It had a dozen new features of entertainment and attention to the guests and wants of the visiting Rotarians. The town was turned over to the convention during its two days, and all the home folks were helping loyally."

Hospitable People

The Hibbing, Minnesota, Tribune said in part:

"The most hospitable people in the Northwest. This is the tribute that Hibbing Rotarians upon their return from Bismarck, paid that city today.

"The North Dakota people showed us what true hospitality meant," stated William Spensley. "They opened their hearts and their doors and told us to take the capital for a souvenir."

A. Schirmer of the Hibbing Rotarians, coming back through Bismarck on a trip to Idaho to look after certain mining interests, notified Miss Mabel Breen, who was "Miss Hibbing" to meet him at the station

PRODUCTION OF MILK AT PEAK PRICE IS AIM

New Salem Farmers Make it a Point To Sell Milk During The Winter

Fargo, N. D., May 2.—Dairymen of the New Salem circuit say that they receive the best prices for their dairy products in the winter, that by feeding silage they get a good milk flow at that time and that they have the time during the winter months to take extra care of their cows and calves while in summer their crops make a heavier demand on them, says J. H. Shepperd, animal husbandryman at the North Dakota Agricultural college, in explaining why dairy receipts among the New Salem members is especially high during the winter months.

These dairymen have found, according to Mr. Shepperd, that hot weather and flies sometimes cut down the milk flow while in winter the flow can be maintained by supplying good feed and by keeping the cows well bedded down and comfortable.

Edward Sullivan, editor of the New Salem Journal, says Mr. Shepperd, "states that for the New Salem territory December, January, February and March are the low months in dairying throughout the year. This is undoubtedly true for the region as a whole but the 16 members of the New Salem Breeding circuit have definite practices of their own and are not identical with the dairymen in the New Salem territory."

The circuit men are year round dairymen but have the best milk flow during the winter season, says Mr. Shepperd. The circuit folks have most of their cows freshen in the fall, and have the dry time of about six weeks come during the late summer when harvest and threshing take a heavy toll of the farmers' time, he explains. Other advantages are that they can feed silage during the winter and have a good milk flow without the cows being bothered by flies and the hot weather.

yesterday. There he presented her with a wrist watch, the gift of the Hibbing club.

Dr. J. R. Nannestad, writing in the Albert Lea, Minnesota, Tribune, said in part:

"It is on this remarkable river (Missouri) that Bismarck is located. It is a remarkable town on a remarkable river in a remarkable state. There is truly where the west begins. A spirit of friendship and hospitality, the glad hand meet you everywhere. And let me not forget that Bismarck is widely known for its beautiful women."

Compliments Tribune

Copies of the Bismarck Tribune Rotary edition were sent to various clubs to keep in their archives, Edward A. Silverstein, president of the Duluth club, acknowledging receipt of the paper, said:

The Bismarck Tribune, Bismarck, N. D., Gentlemen:

In acknowledging the receipt of copy of your paper of the 21st, I want to thank you for sending it, and also to compliment you upon the very splendid edition you prepared for the recent Rotary District Conference held in Bismarck.

"I also want to repeat what I am sure that hundreds of Rotarians have said before, that no previous conference had given so much pleasure nor been filled with so much interest within two days time as had your conference."

SUIT SETTLED OUT OF COURT

New York May 2.—The $500,000 suit brought by Helene Jesmer, former Follies beauty, against Philip Morgan Plant, wealthy stepson of Federal Attorney Haysward for alleged injury in a motor car accident which ruined her beauty today was settled out of court at a figure understood to be in the neighborhood of $100,000.

NEWSPAPER OF YANKTON, S. D. 50 YEARS OLD

Establishment of Paper in Dakota Territory Caused Much Discussion

Yankton, S. D., May 2.—Fifty years ago the residents of Yankton, Dakota territory, were experiencing the first thrills of metropolitanism. They had a daily newspaper, the first to be established in Dakota territory. Last Saturday, April 26, that news-per The Yankton Press and Dakotan celebrated the anniversary by beginning Volume 50 of its issues.

The first issue was of four pages, each with a column, and its name was The Yankon Press and Dakotan—which was not a printer's error, but the accepted spelling of the word in that vicinity. The dropping of a syllable and the changing of the name to Dakotan came about as a part of the gradual process, in progress throughout the country before and since, of adapting Indian names to the English or American language.

The first issue of the Press and Dakotan, besides carrying telegraphic news of the day, recorded a good deal of news, any single piece of which would be good for a "stranger" were it to occur today. One story told that the river stage of the Missouri was higher than it had been since 1802, the year of "the big flood." Another related the progress of the gold rush to the Black Hills. A third told of serious Indian troubles—the killing of nineteen Cheyenne Indians in battle, of Osage Indian troubles in Kansas, and of disturbances between settlers and the redmen. To give it the real tinge of metropolitanism there was a murder story, telling of the slaying of a Yankton man named Bronson.

Steamboat news was an important feature. The steamer Nellie Peck had just sailed up the Missouri for "upper river points" with 350 tons of freight and 70 passengers.

Correspondence from the vicinity told of neighborly activities in Bon Homme, Union, Clay and Burleigh counties—the latter since gone from the map. The Press and Dakotan was for several years the only daily in the territory.

MARKET NEWS WHEAT HOLDS UP IN PRICE

Emergency Tariff Has Effect of Strengthening Market

Chicago, May 2.—Notwithstanding big new deliveries on May contracts today, wheat scored material fresh gains during the early dealing. Higher quotations at Liverpool, together with recent liberal European buying of Canadian wheat, helped to lift values here. Announcement that the emergency tariff had virtually put a stop to import of wheat into the United States except under bond also was a subject of notice. The opening which ranged from one-fourth to 3/8 higher, May $1.04 1/2 to 1/4 and July $1.06 1/2 to 1/4 was followed by a slight further advance.

Subsequently reports of Argentine labor troubles counted as an additional bullish factor, and so, too, did reports that the McNary-Haugen bill would be considered in the House before the end of the week. Closing prices were firm, one to 1 1/2c net higher, May $1.05 1/4 to $1.05 3/4; and July $1.07 1/2 to $1.07 3/4.

GARDEN BOOKS DISPLAYED IN CITY LIBRARY

Special Arrangements Made to Supply Needs for "Garden Week" in City

Strengthening the spirit of "Garden Week" the Bismarck Public Library has an attractive bulletin board display. One of the painted poems done in color for the Seattle Post Intelligencer by their artist, Vincent Adreante, has a prominent place, also the display of "Cherry Blossoms" in Washington with illustrations from the Christian Science Monitor, describing the lovely cherry blossom drive past the Lincoln Memorial in our National Capital. It is said that thousands come every day to enjoy the beauty of the Cherry blossoms and a Congressman from the Pacific Coast was heard grudgingly to say: "The Japanese did one good thing for the United States when they sent those cherry trees."

Garden Magazines

Listed prominent on the bulletin board are the names of magazines circulated by the library, pertaining wholly, or in part, to gardening and floral culture, such as: "Garden Magazine," "House and Garden," "Roses Beautiful," "Country Life," "Fruit, Garden and Home," "Dakota Farmer," and many of the general magazines given to home interests. Shelf material on gardening will also be shown.

Catalogs On Planting

Through the generosity of the two Bismarck green houses, Hoskins Floral Company and Will Seed Company, beautifully illustrated catalogs of their products, with useful instructions for culture, plants, are placed on an attractive holder in the vestibule. These are given free to patrons of the library who desire specific information on seed and plant culture to take to their homes. A mammoth flowering hydrangea gives the display a spring-like appearance, and adds to the spirit of the season as an aid toward making "Bismarck Beautiful."

Things You Believe In

Belief has tunneled mountains, fought diseases, carried tons on columns of air, spun advertisements, telephones, telegraphs, radios to web the world together.

You believe in belief and what it achieves. You believe in advertisements, for they are evidences of belief. You believe in advertised goods, for they are the things other men believe in.

When you see a widely advertised lace curtain, you see a certain that hangs in thousands of homes... a widely advertised lead pencil, a pencil that thousands carry. You don't try advertised wares to test them. You try them to bring yourself fresh satisfaction.

Read the advertisements in these columns, daily. They help you recognize wares that justify belief.

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Gives Better Carburetion

Thirty-seven nationally known automobile factories buy Red Crown Gasoline in tank car lots for testing purposes.

These manufacturers use Red Crown because it has made good—because after comparison it has been found to deliver more mileage, more power, less carbon, easier starting, greater flexibility, quicker pick-up, and smoother acceleration.

It is practically certain that your car was tested and proved with Red Crown before it left the factory and that its entire carburetion system is adjusted to Red Crown Gasoline.

These are weighty arguments why you should use Red Crown, but there is a more forceful reason in the unqualified guarantee of uniformity which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) gives you with every gallon of Red Crown you buy.

Fill up with Red Crown anywhere and everywhere and you will get more mileage, better mileage, and better carburetion.

Rotarians of District Send Back Kind Words For Treatment Received Here CITY IS WELL REPAID

Bismarck Advertised Itself as Live, Hospitable Community. Notices Show

Bismarck Rotarians and other Bismarck citizens who endeavored to make the visit of 800 Rotarians here for the Ninth district conference welcome may feel that their efforts were not in vain.

The Tribune has received numerous letters and copies of newspapers in other cities, praising Bismarck highly for the manner in which the conference was entertained.

The Fergus Falls Tribune, under a heading, "Bismarck, Best Rotarian Host, Welcomes District Clubs to Dakota Ozone" has particularly high praise for the city.

The optimism of North Dakota people evidently sank into the minds of visiting Rotarians, for the Fergus Falls Tribune says:

"Snow covered the northern half of North Dakota last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and there was nobody to deny the comment that it was worth several million dollars to the state. It was a snowstorm to brag about in any state, and left a thicker blanket of white than any previous snowfall of the winter.

"Those who imagine North Dakota feels chastened by her recent years of poor crops, poorer prices, politicians and internal turmoil have another thing coming. She is the cockiest of states. There is nobody who does not say at once, when challenged, 'Yes, we have been handicapped, and wheat has been low, and the political row has been fierce, but most of the trouble is past now. We still have the land, you know, and we haven't touched on any additional prices in spite of the inflation in Montana and South Dakota.'

The editor refers to boasts he heard of dairying increase, and other good things about the state, from North Dakotans.

"Bismarck was a perfect host," says the same paper. "Its displays were brilliant and beautiful. Its intelligent courtesy and forethought were in evidence at every turn. It had a dozen new features of entertainment and attention to the needs and wants of the visiting Rotarians. The town was turned over to the convention during its two days, and all the home folks were helping loyally."

Hospitable People
The Hibbing, Minnesota, Tribune said in part:

"The most hospitable people in the Northwest." This is the tribute that Hibbing Rotarians upon their return from Bismarck, paid that city today.

"The North Dakota people showed us what true hospitality meant," stated William Spensley. "They opened their hearts and their doors and told us to take the capital for a souvenir."

A. C. Schirmer of the Hibbing Rotarians, coming back through Bismarck on a trip to Idaho to look after certain mining interests, notified Miss Mabel Green, who was "Miss Hibbing" to meet him at the station

PRODUCTION OF MILK AT PEAK PRICE IS AIM

Fargo, N. D., May 2.—Dairymen of the New Salem circuit say that they receive the best prices for their dairy products in the winter, that by feeding silage they get a good milk flow at that time and that they have the time during the winter months to take extra care of their cows and calves while in summer their crops make a heavy demand on them, says J. H. Shepperd, animal husbandry man at the North Dakota Agricultural college, in explaining why dairy receipts among the New Salem members is especially high during the winter months.

These dairymen have found, according to Mr. Shepperd, that by weather and flies sometimes cut down the milk flow while in winter the flow can be maintained by supplying good feed and by keeping the cows well bedded down and comfortable.

Edward Sullivan, editor of the New Salem Journal, says Mr. Shepperd, "states that for the New Salem territory December, January, February and March are the low months in dairying throughout the year. This is undoubtedly true for the region as a whole but the 14 members of the New Salem Breeding Circuit have definite practices of their own and are not identical with the dairymen in the New Salem territory."

The Circuit men are year-round dairymen but have the best milk flow during the winter season, says Mr. Shepperd. "The circuit folks have most of their cows fresh in the fall, and have the dry time of about six weeks come during the late summer when harvest and threshing take a heavy toll of the farmers' time, he explains. Other advantages are that they can feed silage during the winter and have a good milk flow without the cows being bothered by flies and the hot weather."

Yesterday, there he presented her with a wrist watch, the gift of the Hibbing club.

Dr. J. R. Nannestad, writing in the Albert Lea, Minnesota, Tribune, said in part:

"It is on this remarkable river (Missouri) that Bismarck is located. It is a remarkable town on a remarkable river in a remarkable state. There is truly where the west begins. A spirit of friendship and hospitality, the glad hand meets you everywhere. And let me not forget that Bismarck is widely known for its beautiful women."

Compliments Tribune
Copies of the Bismarck Tribune Rotary edition were sent to various clubs to keep in their archives. Edward A. Silverstein, president of the Duluth club, acknowledging receipt of the paper, said:

The Bismarck Tribune, Bismarck, N. D.

Gentlemen:

In acknowledging the receipt of copy of your paper of the 21st, I want to thank you for sending it, and also to compliment you upon the very splendid edition you prepared for the recent Rotary District Conference held in Bismarck.

"I also want to repeat what I am sure that hundreds of Rotarians have said before, that no previous conference had given so much pleasure nor been filled with so much interest within two days time as had your conference."

MARKET NEWS WHEAT HOLDS UP IN PRICE

Emergency Tariff Has Effect of Strengthening Market

Chicago, May 2.—Notwithstanding big new deliveries on May contracts today, wheat scored material fresh gains during the early dealings. Higher quotations at Liverpool, together with recent liberal European buying of Canadian wheat, helped to lift values here. Announcement that the emergency tariff had virtually put a stop to import of wheat into the United States except under bond also was a subject of notice.

The opening which ranged from one-fourth to 5c higher, May $1.04 1/4, 3c and July $1.06 1/4 to 1/2 was followed by a slight further advance.

Subsequently reports of Argentine labor troubles counted as an additional bullish factor, and so, too, did the opening which ranged from one-fourth to 1/2c higher, May $1.05 1/4, 4c and July $1.07 1/4 to 1/2.

NEWSPAPER OF YANKTON, S. D. 50 YEARS OLD

Establishment of Paper in Dakota Territory Caused Much Discussion

Yankton, S. D., May 2.—Fifty years ago the residents of Yankton, Dakota territory, were experiencing the first thrills of metropolitanism. They had a daily newspaper, the first to be established in Dakota territory. Last Saturday, April 26, that news-

per—The Yankton Press and Dakotian—celebrated the anniversary by beginning Volume 50 of its issues.

The first issue was of four pages, each with six columns, and its name was The Yankon Press and Dakotian—which was not a printer's error, but the accepted spelling of the word in that vicinity. The dropping of a syllable and the changing of the name to Dakotian came about as a part of the gradual process, in progress throughout the country before and since, of adapting Indian names to the English—or American—language.

The first issue of the Press and Dakotian, besides carrying telegraphic news of the day, recorded a good deal of news, any single piece of which would be good for a "streamer" were it to occur today. One story told that the river stage of the Missouri was higher than it had been since 1862, the year of "the big flood." Another related the progress of the gold rush to the Black Hills. A third told of serious Indian troubles—the killing of nine Cheyenne Indians in battle, of Osage Indian troubles in Kansas, and of disturbances between settlers and the redmen. To give it the real tinge of metropolitanism there was a murder story, telling of the slaying of a Yankton man named Bronson.

Steamboat news was an important feature. The steamer Nellie Peck had just sailed up the Missouri for "upper points" with 350 tons of freight and 70 passengers.

Correspondence from the vicinity told of neighborly activities in Bon Homme, Union, Clay and Burleigh counties—the latter since gone from the map. The Press and Dakotian was for several years the only daily in the territory.

They tried it as a last resort!

THE EDUCATOR'S OPPORTUNITY

Physical development as an important factor in our educational system is stressed too lightly. Here in Bismarck through improper utilization of the school plant, physical culture is practically neglected. Athletics, it is true, receive emphasis and rightly so, but what is being done to improve the physical well being of the average child who never makes the team and may be too hollow chested even to root above a whisper?

During the winter time the children are marched from the William Moore school to the Roosevelt gymnasium work. Here they receive a few spasmodic exercises and are then marched back again, possibly the best part of the exercise is the "hike" between the schools.

The many years spent in school render school life a dominant factor in the life of the child and it is reasonable to argue that during that important period as much time should be given to body building as to the development of the mind. Modern education in some places neglects this feature for the more spectacular pursuits of field athletics which produce a few stars but contribute nothing to raising the general physical standards. It is possible, however, to have both with proper management and foresight.

Every year boys are sent to West Point and Annapolis who have gone through the public schools. For a solid year many of these boys, pale of face and lank of limb must apply themselves to correcting physical deficiencies which were allowed to grow under our present system. At the end of the year when these boys return robust and rosy cheeked the change is startling to their relatives and friends.

Most of our educational concepts need to be enlarged and revised. New standards of educational values need to be established. Surely we should build our boys and girls to meet the physical needs of life's battle in our public schools as carefully as we train those to face the battles of warfare.

Fifty per cent of all who die between the ages of twenty and thirty years, die of one malady; tuberculosis. Many children fall prey to the disease through some of the poorly ventilated fire-traps which we call public schools and Bismarck has one of the best examples of this kind of a structure.

In curtailing the school budget, little provision has been made for physical training in the schools. It is to be left largely to the overworked teachers. In the past much money has been spent in Bismarck for alleged physical culture. More recently the offer was made by a body of citizens to cooperate with the school board in inauguration a plan of physical culture. The members countered with a plan to employ a teacher who after six periods of teaching was to devote "the rest" of his time to boy and girl welfare work.

Of course the businessmen smiled and realized that after a man had spent six periods in a school room, he would have little or no time to promote the physical welfare of the boys and girls of Bismarck.

It will be necessary then to raise by private subscription some $3,500 for this work among the taxpayers for a service that is being given by every modern and up to date school system in the United States.

There should be a strong department of physical education in our schools. Foolish requirements for teachers bar many persons qualified to do this work from securing certificates. When one wants a specialist in some line of business, there are no restrictions nor barriers set up to employing him. But in school affairs when it is necessary to hire a teacher in physical culture, he must be qualified to instruct in the whole gamut of subjects laid down by the certification department. Fortunately a football coach does not have to be an expert in Latin, Greek or mathematics to teach the boys to "buck" the line. May that day soon arrive when our educational foibles will crumble before plain, horse sense.

The Bismarck school board should step out and get a woman and a man qualified to promote physical culture among the students and make it a real part of the local curriculum not merely a spasmodic make-shift by pressing into service some overworked teacher with a meager knowledge of calisthenics.

Enough money is being spent in the school budget now if it were properly dispersed to give the Bismarck schools a strong department of physical education without adding materially to the cost. Of course if the board will not do so, the citizens will have to raise voluntarily the necessary funds to perform a function that is rightfully the school system's. One writer has put the case very plainly:

"If the high school graduate knows a little less of Caesar's wars or bridge building exploits but knows how to keep his body in fit condition for maximum activity and efficiency, how to eat, how to maintain the normal rhythm of digestion, he will be vastly better off than though he could repeat Homer's immortal poem by heart."

SUN

A machine using mirrors to capture and focus the sun's rays heated an oven to a temperature of 175 degrees centigrade last year at Mount Vernon, Calif. Dr. Abbot, astronomer of Smithsonian Institution, built and operated the "solar cooker."

This summer he will renew his experiments on the practical basis of trying to use the heat of the sun for kitchen cooking. It would be all right except on cloudy days. Attempts to harness the sun will be more or less futile until a way is found to "can" its heat for uninterrupted use. It is a fascinating future possibility.

We thought the alphabet had been jailed in Russia, but it was only a man named Krasnotchekoff, or something like that.

A good rule works both ways. Japan is free to bar American immigrants.

THE VALUE OF A NAME

New York.—The sale of the Woolworth building last week for $11,000,000 revealed more than the actual market value of the property. It brought to light some sidelights on the value of the name.

When the giant building was completed in 1912 its renting agents had a very difficult time to find tenants to fill its fifty-nine floors. The name Woolworth was associated only with 5 and 10-cent stores and the concerns did not wish to have their names associated with it. Despite the fact that the new structure was the last word in skyscrapers and located at Broadway and Park place the renting agents had to make unusual concessions to every party to fill the building.

As the president of one concern which occupied a suite of offices on one of the upper floors, told me: "We didn't want to have the name Woolworth on our letterheads for we didn't want to give that impression to our business connections around the country. But we were able to get a long lease at such a low rental that we waived our prejudices. Today we are paying $21,000 a year for offices we were paying $7,000 only two or three years ago. Why? Because after the building was made famous throughout the world, its name became an asset instead of a liability. The Woolworth building is known everywhere not only as the tallest but the most beautiful building in the world and so its owners are able to get the rentals that will bring them a profitable percentage on their investment. A name that ten years ago was a great handicap is now a tremendous asset."

It was generally supposed that the Woolworth building was worth $15,000,000 for it is assessed at $12,500,000. But its sale for $11,000,000 cash and the balance in straight five years first mortgage notes, carrying 5 1/2 per cent interest, is the best answer to any question about its value.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SAY, THAT'S OUR POLE!

For fifteen years Americans have been lulled into a state of blissful security. They have been led to believe that they possessed an unchallenged title to that parcel of the earth, particularly described as 90 north latitude, together with all and singular the hereditaments thereto attached. Pride of possessing the North pole has glowed deep in every American heart since that fateful day when Admiral Robert E. Peary reported his discovery. Indeed, the pride began to glow when Dr. Frederick Cook announced the pole's discovery somewhat prematurely.

And now in the hour of peace, the moment of contented possession, comes a dire and dastardly action. A man, far away in Moscow, comes the insolent prophecy of a Soviet aviator, Raskinsky by name, that he will plant the red flag on the pole by September.

It is a time for reflection. The government should have the undivided support of all parties in the United States. Our sovereignty over the Garden Spot of the farthest North is challenged. An affront endangers the aloof unfriendliness of our relations with the Soviet government of Russia. Mr. du Pont and Mr. Compens, our secretaries, Dr. Cook, whom the government recently drafted for fourteen years service near the Leavenworth barracks, should be asked to lead a relief expedition to protect our prized possession. Unless prompt action is taken, thousands of helpless wretches may come under an autocratic government, foreign to American ideals. Every feebler must do its duty.—Detroit News.

ROOSEVELT AND TAMERLANE

At a cabinet meeting one sunny afternoon in Washington Roosevelt appeared distraught. Pressed for attention by a secretary, he exclaimed violently: "It's those Mongols. I can't get them out of my head." He had been reading of Tamerlane, the man who sought an empire by destroying all that was in it. Tamerlane, the ruthless, once built a monument of 70,000 skulls of human beings whom his warriors had slain. The dimensions of the horrifying shaft have not been preserved. His horses carried death, but not victory, and though he destroyed much his realms did not survive fifty years. Yet the thought of Tamerlane and his mad plan of power and in a book was sufficient to grip the super-concentrated Roosevelt amid a circle of his chosen aides, when taxes and navies were being discussed.

In such days as these, when senate investigators have found some evil, and now are whining their mud as far and wide as their bodies will reach the vision of mad old Tamerlane and his misguided sense of conquest perhaps ought again to be revived.

The indiscriminate sloshing of reputation by statesmen who smear has disgusted Washington and the nation. The original purpose has been lost in the high glee of reflecting on character and faith. Such never win a victory and the investigators seeking in this fashion to plant themselves on fertile political ground may find themselves staring blankly only at the ruin they have achieved.—Albany Knickerbocker Press.

NORTH DAKOTA'S POET

It was with genuine affection that the people of Grand Forks united Monday to welcome "Jimmy" Foley to the city.

Many of the older residents of course were his personal friends of years' standing, but even to those who met him for the first time yesterday, his coming was not that of a stranger, but of an old friend, and it was as such that they greeted him.

It is the friendly, lovable, qual-

Some Folks Have All the Luck

YOU'LL GET IT LATER
BY ALBERT APPLE

Young men frequently get discouraged because they are not making more money. They forget that a lot of the work they do in youth will not pay them any return until later when they "cash in on" experience.

Take the case of O. Henry. He wrote, for years without being able to sell a single story. At the time it probably seemed to him that in writing he was doing work without getting paid for it. But gradually O. Henry became a master craftsman. Then he began to collect pay for his years of toil, at a rate as high as a dollar a word.

During all those unremunerative years he was really building up an invisible fortune that later turned into actuality.

Keep this thought in mind—that you will not be paid until later for a lot of the work you do now.

The successful doctor and dentist may seem to have very large incomes. But part of this is pay for the years when, educating themselves and later building up a practice, they got little or no pay at all.

We know a man who worked in an office and for years never made more than $150 a month. Suddenly he got a big job—and began to collect back pay for the unprosperous years when he was in reality building up a private fortune—the ability to handle a big job.

Success is a lot like the harvest that comes after a long, laborious and discouraging period of coaxing the crop along. The farmer is by nature a sound thinker. When he harvests in a few weeks, he doesn't think that his whole year's income is from the work of those few weeks.

The whole principle is obvious. And it works backwards, too. Life is a garden. And, as some farmers neglect their fields and let the weeds run riot, so also are millions of young and middle-aged men growing a crop of failure.

Are you growing weeds or wheat?

EVERETT TRUE

YOU SAY THIS IS ALL YOU HAVE IN THIS LINE. THEY'RE NOT EXACTLY WHAT I WANT, SO I'LL HAVE TO LOOK AROUND IN SOME OF THE OTHER STORES.

ALL RIGHT, SIR. I'M VERY SORRY WE DON'T HAVE JUST WHAT YOU WANT.

I'VE CHANGED MY MIND. I'LL TAKE THESE. A SALESMAN WHO CAN SMILE PLEASANTLY INTO THE FACE OF THE "NO SALE" CUSTOMER IS GOING TO SELL ME SOMETHING!!

The little man came and when they saw the new clothes they shouted for joy. Then they put the things on and disappeared. We have never seen them since.

"But a queer thing happened. I had bought some green leather—enough for two pairs of shoes. It disappeared with them."

"They must have made magic shoes and given them to the Fairy Queen," cried Nancy. "And she gave them to us."

Whatever else you do, don't be guilty of drowning your garden. Many beginners make the mistake of watering their crops too much. This practice is probably founded on the fallacy that the more moisture plants are given the better they will grow.

Too much water is worse than too little. Rather than sprinkle constantly during seasons of drought, try shallow cultivation with a steel rake around the plants instead.

This is what horticulturists call dry soil mulch. It prevents the escape of moisture in the ground. Sprinkling, during spring and fall, should be done in the morning that the foliage may be dry before the cold of night comes.

Also, remember that wet foliage on bright days is subject to sun scald. Bear in mind that moisture poured into the soil feeds upward to the plant roots like a wick in an oil lamp.

Just because the top surface is dry is no sign that the plants aren't getting plenty of moisture from beneath. Perhaps the best manner of applying water to crops is to open slight furrows which have previously been and allow water to gently flow through these miniature ditches.

Frequent light sprinkling is dangerous. It is best to thoroughly soak the garden about once every week, providing there has been no rain in the meanwhile.

Permit the water to settle and soak into the soil. Then put your seeds in and cover the trench with dry earth.

It is a good practice to visit your garden during the early morning, when the dew is still present on the plants.

Don't attempt a garden of such size that its care will become a burden. A small plot intensely cultivated is far better than one half cared for.

Plants will be stimulated into growth much faster if the surface soil frequently is stirred with a rake. Stirring not only eliminates weeds, but likewise admits air—a vital plant food absolutely necessary to healthy growth.

Lettuce, for example, may be sown very early. But if you sow all your seed at once, all your lettuce will mature at about the same time and you won't be able to eat it all.

To prevent such waste, mark off the space you intend allotting the various crops, and sow but a small portion of the seed at once.

Follow the first sowing a week or so later with another one. In this way you will get a succession of crops continuing to the close of the gardening season.

"I am glad you did not say 'person' because you could not be happier than I tonight, Jack."

After this bit of sentiment we began as married people often do, to talk plans for the next few days.

"I don't just know, Jack," I said "how we are going to make excuses to mother."

"Why we'll just have to tell the truth, Leslie. You didn't know that you would be called to New York when you telegraphed her to come. I'm quite sure that she will be content—at least she should be content with the baby and me until you return."

"You won't be gone long, will you dear? For you know I'm going to be very busy at the office, and you know mother has never gotten over the idea that you should come first even before business. I shall have to be home for meals very promptly, for mother has never been able to understand that anything in my life should come before her."

"That's another thing we women have changed," I said. "We do not make the question of prompt meals to be very busy at our mothers' used to, and we are not so jealous of a man's business. We understand that after all, marriage is a business, and as a partner in it, we must work for the interests of all concerned."

"Good Lord, Leslie, are you getting stronger minded?"

"I raised my lips to John's. After a long kiss, I murmured. 'Do you think so?'"

"TOMORROW: More of the letter from Leslie Prescott to Leslie Prescott, care the secret drawer."

Junior-Senior Class Banquet

The first of the 1924 graduating annual exercises was held last evening when the Junior Class of the Bismarck High school entertained the Seniors at a banquet at the Masonic Temple. The table was placed in the form of a horseshoe at which members of the faculty and the two classes were seated. The dining room was artistically decorated in the senior colors, green and silver. The programs carried out the Junior colors of blue and gold. Carnations were used in decorating the beautifully laid table.

Douglas Lane, president of the Junior Class presided at the short but interesting program which had been arranged. He proved himself to be a most capable toastmaster, and in a few well chosen remarks greeted the class who were guests for the evening. Edward Alfson spoke entertainingly on the subject of "The Past Three Years". Miss Ramsdale responded to the toast, "Slits". Kenneth Preston sang several solo numbers and Dorothy Birdzell responded to the toast, "Through the Telescope." This was a prophecy for the Juniors, and many humorous thoughts were introduced throughout.

Following the banquet the classes enjoyed a delightful dancing party with music furnished by the North Star Music Makers. The banquet was put on by the Eastern Star ladies and they are receiving numerous compliments today for the very excellent banquet which they served and the efficient manner in which it was handled.

Jefferson Memorial Fund Grows

The purchase of the Jefferson Memorial seems assured by the way contributions have been received from each state in the Union by treasurers who have been appointed to collect the same.

Mrs. J. R. Smyth reports that funds have been coming in very well from schools over the state and it is most gratifying to find the patriotic spirit such as to respond to a call of this kind. The fund which is being raised will be applied to the purchase of the old Thomas Jefferson home in Virginia.

The public schools of the city have contributed $12.81 up to the present time, which is distributed as follows: William Moore School, $3.29; Will School, $2.40; Wachter, $1.25; Roosevelt, 73 cents; Richholt, $3.00.

Contributions from over the state to the memorial fund, has netted a total of $63.24. The list of schools are as follows:

CUSTER PARK BETTERMENTS BEING MADE

FOUNTAIN IS GIVEN

Trees and shrubbery in Custer Park are beginning to leaf out and the Park Committee, of which Mrs. W. E. Cole is chairman have completed plans for the beautifying and planting of the park for the summer season. Workmen are busily engaged in getting the flower beds in shape and the southeast corner of the park has been filled in by authority of the city Commissioners. This is being seeded and beds of bulbs and flowers are to be planted in the near future.

The committee ask that all who have a surplus of bulbs, shrubbery or plants of any kind, notify Mrs. Cole or send them to the park where they will be used in planting. Different civic and fraternal organizations of the city have made substantial donations either in cash or plants for the park and these are being used. Shrubbery and trees of any kind can be used most effectively in making the park beautiful.

Several bird houses have been placed in the park and the W. C. T. U. have donated a drinking fountain which has been installed and is to be used by the public. It is understood that several new and rustic benches are to be placed in the park for use this summer.

One point that is being stressed by the Arbor Day talks given in the various city schools deals with the preservation of property and plant and animal life. In line with these talks the park committee would appreciate any effort that parents whose children play in the park might make to teach them to preserve the flower beds and shrubbery. Last year the lilacs when blooming were broken and badly mutilated, and they hope this may not occur this season.

REP. KNUTSON IS ACQUITTED

Washington, May 2.—Representative Harold Knutson of Minnesota, was found not guilty by a jury in Arlington county, Virginia, of serious charges filed against him last March by three Virginia police officers who arrested him when in an automobile with Leroy M. Hull, a Washington government clerk.

The case occupied two days and the jury upon receiving it deliberated little more than an hour and took three ballots. Immediately upon announcement of the verdict the commonwealth attorney entered a motion dismissing the case against Hull.

Knutson, commenting upon the result, declared that it was what he had expected, and that he had been "confident of the outcome right along."

Proclamation

The home is the cornerstone of the Republic; the foundation of our national life. When love, respect, and obedience constitute the ideals of the home, the foundation is secure and the building of strong commonwealths assured. The finest contribution to our national greatness is therefore made by the person who implants and safeguards these ideals and principles in the home circle. This is the contribution of the mothers of men. "The hand that rocks the cradle" is still the "hand that rules the world." As the maker of the home, mother forms the character of the child, the life of the country, the course of the state, and the destiny of the nation. Were her influence lost, much of what is finest and best in our civilization would also disappear.

While every day should be a mother's day, with the memory of mother keeping us true to ideal, firm in purpose, unselfish in service, and noble in all relationships of life, yet it is well to dedicate a special day to the thought of mother's unselfish love and self-sacrificing devotion, that we may resolve anew to live true to the ideals taught and exemplified by her life.

The beautiful custom of observing such a day throughout the nation for the purpose of honoring the mothers of men should be perpetuated.

NOW, THEREFORE, by the authority vested in me as governor of the state of North Dakota, I, R. A. Nestos, do hereby designate and proclaim and call upon our people, old and young, to gather in their several places of worship and to participate in services appropriate to the day.

SUNDAY, MAY 11, 1924

MOTHER'S DAY

May all absent sons and daughters use this day to visit mother in person or, if that be impossible, by a message of cheer, greeting and love gladden her heart. Every person should wear an appropriate flower, fragrant to her memory, and flags should be displayed upon the homes, public buildings, and other suitable places as an expression of the love and reverence in which the citizenship of our state holds the name and memory of mother, and in recognition of her influence in inculcating the great ideals and principles that make for personal character and national strength.

Wherever possible, individuals and organizations should also establish or observe the custom of planting a white birch in memory of mother.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of North Dakota, at the capital at Bismarck, this 1st day of May, 1924.

R. A. NESTOS, Governor.

THIRTY BODIES ARE RECOVERED

Wheeling, W. Va., May 2.—Thirty bodies were found by rescue workers in north entry No. 8 of the Benwood mine of the Wheeling Steel Corporation last night and today, accounting for 70 of the 110 miners who were entombed by an explosion last Monday. R. M. Lambie, chief of the West Virginia department of mines, said the bodies would be hoisted to the surface during the afternoon.

PRISON HEAD IS THREATENED

New Orleans, May 2.—Capt. Archie Remington, superintendent of the Orleans parish prison where the 16 Italians condemned to die at Angola on May 9 are held, received today a letter informing him "we will get you sure if the men hang."

The superintendent reported on Wednesday the receipt of an offer of $50,000 to permit escape of five of the prisoners. Last night an anonymous caller on the telephone, speaking in broken English, asked Capt. Remington if he had received the communication relating to the bribe to reduce "freshmen" mortality.

Dean Taylor, however, declared this large sum of money would be of no success.

The first of the 1924 graduating annual exercises was held last evening when the Junior Class of the Bismarck High School entertained the Seniors at a banquet at the Masonic Temple. The table was placed in the form of a horseshoe at which members of the faculty and the two classes were seated. The dining room was artistically decorated in the senior colors, green and silver. The programs carried out the Junior colors of blue and gold. Carnations were used in decorating the beautifully laid table.

Douglas Lane, president of the Junior Class presided at the short but interesting program which had been arranged. He proved himself to be a most capable toastmaster, and in a few well chosen remarks greeted the class who were guests for the evening. Edward Alfson spoke entertainingly on the subject of "The Past Three Years". Miss Ramsdale responded to the toast, "Slits". Kenneth Preston sang several solo numbers and Dorothy Birdzell responded to the toast, "Through the Telescope". This was a prophecy for the Juniors, and many humorous thoughts were introduced throughout.

George Knowles, president of the Senior Class, made the closing speech on the program and in it expressed the pleasure of the Seniors for the entertainment afforded the class by the Juniors.

Following the banquet the classes enjoyed a delightful dancing party with music furnished by the North Star Music Makers. The banquet was put on by the Eastern Star ladies and they are receiving numerous compliments today for the very excellent banquet which they served and the efficient manner in which it was handled.

Jefferson Memorial Fund Grows

The purchase of the Jefferson Memorial seems assured by the way contributions have been received from each state in the Union by treasurers who have been appointed to collect the same.

Mrs. F. R. Smyth reports that funds have been coming in very well from schools over the state and it is most gratifying to find the patriotic spirit such as to respond to a call of this kind. The fund which is being raised will be applied to the purchase of the old Thomas Jefferson home in Virginia.

The public schools of the city have contributed $12.21 up to the present time, which is distributed as follows: William Moore School, $3.29; Will School, $2.40; Wachter, $1.25; Roosevelt, 73 cents; Richholt, $3.00.

Contributions from over the state to the memorial fund has netted a total of $63.24. The list of schools are as follows:

Dickinson Normal, $2.02; Mayville Normal, $3.20; Bismarck Public, $12.21; Tolna, 50 cents; St. John, $1.15; Linton, $6.15; Calvin, $1.96; Siles, $2.10; District No. 64, Barnes Co., 10 cents; Oriska, 12 cents; Gilby, $1.14; Hatton, $2.67; Sanborn, 25 cents; Litchwood, $3.25; Brockton, $1.00; Drake, $2.90; Underwood, $1.87; Grafton, $3.06; Belvidere, $3.18; Painted Woods, 20 cents; Grand Forks University, $7.63; Portal, $2.04; St. Thomas, $1.92; Forman, $3.05.

CUSTER PARK BETTERMENTS BEING MADE

FOUNTAIN IS GIVEN

Trees and shrubbery in Custer Park are beginning to leaf out and the Park Committee, of which Mrs. W. E. Cole is chairman, have completed plans for the beautifying and planting of the park for the summer season. Workmen are busy engaged in getting the flower beds in shape and the southeast corner of the park has been filled in by authority of the city Commissioners. This is being seeded and beds of bulbs and flowers are to be planted in the near future.

The committee ask that all who may have a surplus of bulbs, shrubbery or plants of any kind, notify Mrs. Cole or send them to the park where they will be used in planting. Different civic and fraternal organizations of the city have made substantial donations either in cash or plants for the park and these are being used. Shrubbery and trees of any kind can be used most effectively in making the park beautiful.

Several bird houses have been placed in the park and the W. C. T. U. have donated a drinking fountain which has been installed and is to be used by the public. It is understood that several new and rustic benches are to be placed in the park for use this summer.

One point that is being stressed by the Arbor Day talks given in the various city schools deals with the preservation of property and plant and animal life. THE EDUCATOR'S OPPORTUNITY
Physical development is an important factor in our educational system is stressed too lightly. Here in Bismarck through improper utilization of the school plant, physical culture is practically neglected. Athletics, it is true, receive emphasis and rightly so, but what is being done to improve the physical well being of the average child who never makes the team and may be too hollow chested even to root above a whisper?

During the winter time the children are marched from the William Moore school to the Roosevelt for gymnasium work. Here they receive a few spasmodic exercises and are then marched back again, possibly the best part of the exercise is the "hike" between the schools.

The many years spent in school render school life a dominant factor in the life of the child and it is reasonable to argue that during that important period as much time should be given to body building as to the development of the mind. Modern education in some places neglects this feature for the more spectacular pursuits of field athletics which produce a few stars but contribute nothing to raising the general physical standards. It is possible, however, to have both with proper management and foresight.

Every year boys are sent to West Point and Annapolis who have gone through the public schools. For a solid year many of these boys, pale of face and lank of limb must apply themselves to correcting physical deficiencies which were allowed to grow under our present system. At the end of the year when these boys return robust and rosy cheeked the change is startling to their relatives and friends.

Most of our educational concepts need to be enlarged and revised. New standards of educational values need to be established. Surely we should build our boys and girls to meet the physical needs of life's battle in our public schools as carefully as we train those to face the battles of warfare.

Fifty per cent of all who die between the ages of twenty and thirty years, die of one malady; tuberculosis. Many children fall prey to the disease through some of the poorly ventilated fire-traps which we call public schools and Bismarck has one of the best examples of this kind of a structure.

In curtailing the school budget, little provision has been made for physical training in the schools. It is to be left largely to the overworked teachers. In the past much money has been spent in Bismarck for alleged physical culture. More recently the offer was made by a body of citizens to cooperate with the school board in inauguration a plan of physical culture. The members countered with a plan to employ a teacher who after six periods of teaching was to devote "the rest" of his time to boy and girl welfare work.

Of course the businessmen smiled and realized that after a man had spent six periods in a school room, he would have little or no time to promote the physical welfare of the boys and girls of Bismarck.

It will be necessary then to raise by private subscription some $3,500 for this work among the taxpayers for a service that is being given by every modern and up to date school system in the United States.

There should be a strong department of physical education in our schools. Foolish requirements for teachers bar many persons qualified to do this work from securing certificates. When one wants a specialist in some line of business, there are no restrictions nor barriers set up to employing him. But in school affairs when it is necessary to hire a teacher in physical culture, he must be qualified to instruct in the whole gamut of subjects laid down by the certification department. Fortunately a football coach does not have to be an expert in Latin, Greek or mathematics to teach the boys to "buck" the line. May that day soon arrive when our educational foibles will crumble before plain, horse sense.

The Bismarck school board should step out and get a woman and a man qualified to promote physical culture among the students and make it a real part of the local curriculum not merely a spasmodic make-shift by pressing into service some overworked teacher with a meager knowledge of calisthenics.

Enough money is being spent in the school budget now if it were properly dispersed to give the Bismarck schools a strong department of physical education without adding materially to the cost. Of course if the board will not do so, the citizens will have to raise voluntarily the necessary funds to perform a function that is rightfully the school system's. One writer has put the case very plainly:

"If the high school graduate knows a little less of Caesar's wars or bridge building exploits but knows how to keep his body in fit condition for maximum activity and efficiency, how to eat, how to maintain the normal rhythm of digestion, he will be vastly better off than though he could repeat Homer's immortal poem by heart."

SUN
A machine using mirrors to capture and focus the sun's rays heated an oven to a temperature of 175 degrees centigrade last year at Mount Vernon, Calif. Dr. Abbot, astronomer of Smithsonian Institution, built and operated the "solar cooker."

This summer he will renew his experiments on the practical basis of trying to use the heat of the sun for kitchen cooking. It would be all right except on cloudy days. Attempts to harness the sun will be more or less futile until a way is found to "can" its heat for uninterrupted use. It is a fascinating future possibility.

We thought the alphabet had been jailed in Russia, but it was only a man named Krasnotchekoff, or something like that.

THE VALUE OF A NAME

New York. The sale of the Woolworth building last week for $11,000,000 revealed more than the actual market value of the property. It brought to light some sidelights on the value of the name.

When the giant building was completed in 1912 its renting agents had a very difficult time to find tenants to fill its fifty-nine floors. The name Woolworth was associated only with 5 and 10-cent goods and the name did not seem to have any names associated with it. Despite the fact that the new structure was the last word in skyscrapers and located at Broadway and Park place the renting agents had to make unusual concessions to every party to fill the building.

As the president of one concern which occupied a suite of offices on one of the upper floors, told me: "We didn't want to have the name Woolworth on our letterheads for we didn't want to give that impression to our business connections around the country." But we were able to get a long lease at such a low rental that we waived our prejudices. Today we are paying $21,000 a year for offices we were paying $7,000 only two or three years ago. Why? Because after the building was made famous throughout the world, its name became an asset instead of a liability. The Woolworth building is known everywhere not only as the tallest but the most beautiful building in the world and so its owners are able to get the rentals that will bring them a profitable percentage on their investment. A name that ten years ago was a great handicap is now a tremendous asset.

It was generally supposed that the Woolworth building was worth $15,000,000 for it is assessed at $1,250,000. But its sale for $4,000,000 cash and the balance on straight five years first mortgage notes, carrying 5 1/2 per cent interest, is the best answer to any question about its value. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SAY, THAT'S OUR POLE!

For fifteen years Americans have been huddled into a state of blissful security. They have been led to believe that they possessed an unchallenged title to that parcel of the earth, particularly described as 90 north latitude, together with all and singular the hereditaments thereto attached. Pride of possession the North pole has glowed deep in every American heart since the faded day when Admiral Robert E. Peary reported his discovery. Indeed, the pride began to glow when Dr. Frederick Cook announced the pole's discovery somewhat prematurely.

And now in the hour of peace, the moment of contented possession, comes a dire and dastardly threat. From faraway Moscow, comes the insolent prophecy of a Soviet aviator, Rostovsky by name, that he will plant the red flag on the pole by September.

It is a time for reflection. The government should have the undivided support of all parties in the crisis. Our sovereignty over the Garden Spot of the farthest North is challenged. An affront endangers the aloof unfriendliness of our relations with the Soviet government of Russia. Mr. du Pont and Mr. Compers must get together. Dr. Cook when the government recently drafted for fourteen years service near the Leavenworth barracks, should be asked to lead a relief expedition to protect our prized possession. Unless prompt action is taken, thousands of helpless widows may come under an autocratic government, foreign to American ideals. Every American must do its duty. —Detroit News.

ROOSEVELT AND TAMERLANE

At a cabinet meeting one munny afternoon in Washington Roosevelt appeared distraught. Pressed for attention by a secretary, he exclaimed violently: "It's those Mongols. I can't get them out of my head." He had been reading of Tamerlane, the man who sought an empire by destroying all that was in it.

Tamerlane, the ruthless, once built a monument of 70,000 skulls of human beings whom his warriors had slain. The dimensions of the horrifying shaft have not been preserved. His horde carried death, but not victory, and though he destroyed much his realm did not survive fifty years.

Yet the thought of Tamerlane and his maddened plan of power read in a book was sufficient to grip the super-concentrated Roosevelt and a circle of his chosen advisers when taxes and navies were being discussed.

In such days as these, when senate investigators have found some evil, and now are whirling their mud as far and wide as their bolles will reach the vision of mad old Tamerlane and his misguided sense of conquest perhaps ought again to be revived.

The indiscriminate sloughing of reputation by attorneys who love a smear has disgusted Washington and the nation. The original purpose has been lost in the high gleam of reflecting on character and faith. Such never will a victory and the investigators seeking in this fashion to plant themselves on fertile political ground may find themselves staring blankly only at the ruin they have achieved. —Albany Knickerbocker Press.

NORTH DAKOTA'S POET

It was with genuine affection that the people of Grand Forks greeted Monday to welcome "Jimmy" Foley to the city.

Many of the older residents of course were his personal friends of years' standing, but even to those who met him for the first time yesterday, his coming was not that of a stranger, but of an old friend, and it was as such that they greeted him.

It is the friendly, lovable, quality in Mr. Foley's verses which has endeared him to the people of the state which was his home, and which has furnished the inspiration for much of his work. We love his songs less for the artistry of their composition than for the warm human feeling which fills them.

Mr. Foley is an artist, but it is the heart of the man which glows through the artist's skill which wins affection as well as respect.

If we had more such friendly souls as Jim Foley in North Dakota today this state would be a better one in which to live. —Grand Forks Herald.

YOU'LL GET IT LATER
BY ALBERT APPLE

Young men frequently get discouraged because they are not making more money. They forget that a lot of the work they do in youth will not pay them any return until later when they "cash in" on experience.

Take the case of O. Henry. He wrote, for years without being able to sell a single story. At the time it probably seemed to him that in writing he was doing work without getting paid for it. But gradually O. Henry became a master craftsman. Then he began to collect pay for his years of toil, at a rate as high as a dollar a word.

During all those unremunerative years he was really building up an invisible fortune that later turned into actuality.

Keep this thought in mind—that you will not be paid until later for a lot of the work you do now.

The successful doctor and dentist may seem to have very large incomes. But part of this is pay for the years when, educating themselves and later building up a practice, they got little or no pay at all.

The skilled worker is getting pay, not only for his present efforts, but also for his apprentice days.

We know a man who worked in an office and for years never made more than $150 a month. Suddenly he got a big job—and began to collect back pay for the unprosperous years when he was in reality building up a private fortune—the ability to handle a big job.

Success is a lot like the harvest that comes after a long, laborious and discouraging period of coaxing the crop along. The farmer is by nature a sound thinker. When he harvests in a few weeks, he doesn't think that his whole year's income is from the work of those few weeks.

The whole principle is obvious. And it works backwards, too. Life is a garden. And, as some farmers neglect their fields and let the weeds run riot, so also are millions of young and middle-aged men growing a crop of failure.

Success, even on a moderate scale, does not begin to come to many people before the age of 40. Then or later they collect back pay—high or low, depending on past effort or negligence.

Are you growing weeds or wheat?

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

YOU SAY THIS IS ALL YOU HAVE IN THIS LINE. THEY'RE NOT EXACTLY WHAT I WANT, SO I'LL HAVE TO LOOK AROUND IN SOME OF THE OTHER STORES.

ALL RIGHT, SIR. I'M VERY SORRY WE DON'T HAVE JUST WHAT YOU WANT.

Whatever else you do, don't be guilty of drowning your garden. Many beginners make the mistake of watering their crops too much. This practice is probably founded on the fallacy that the more moisture plants are given the better they will grow.

Rather than sprinkle constantly during seasons of drought, try shallow cultivation with a steel rake around the plants instead.

This is what horticulturists call dry soil mulch. It prevents the escape of moisture in the ground.

Sprinkling, during spring and fall, should be done in the morning that the foliage may be dry before the cold of night comes.

Also, remember that wet foliage on bright days is subject to sun scald.

Bear in mind that moisture poured into the soil feeds upward to the plant roots like a wick in an oil lamp.

Just because the top surface is dry is no sign that the plants aren't getting plenty of moisture from beneath.

Perhaps the best manner of applying water to crops is to open slight furrows which have previously been and allow water to gently flow through these miniature ditches.

Frequent light sprinkling is dangerous. It is best to thoroughly soak the garden about once every week, providing there has been no rain in the meanwhile.

Seeds planted during a period of drought should be sown in slight furrows which have previously been filled with water. Permit the water to settle and soak into the soil. Then put your seeds in and cover the trench with dry earth.

It is a good practice to visit your garden during the early morning, while the dew is still present on the plants.

Such inspection will reveal what has happened during the night and prepare you to combat any insect invasion.

Don't attempt a garden of such size that its care will become a burden.

A small plot intensely cultivated is far better than one half cared for. Plants will be stimulated into vigorous crop faster if the surface soil frequently is stirred with a rake. Stirring not only eliminates weeds, but likewise admits air—a vital plant food absolutely necessary to healthy growth.

Succession and companion cropping methods should be employed in the cultivation of all crops whenever possible.

By succession cropping is meant the growing of the same vegetable throughout a long season.

Lettuce, for example, may be sown very early. But if you sow all your seed at once, all your lettuce will mature at about the same time and you won't be able to eat it all.

To prevent such waste, mark off the space you intend allotting to various crops and sow but a small portion of the seed at once.

Follow the first sowing a week or so later with another one. In this way you will get a succession of crops continuing to the close of the gardening season.

This plan applies especially to radishes, onion (sets, not seed), peas, beans, kohlrabi, spinach and sweet corn.

After this bit of sentiment we began as married people often do, to talk plans for the next few days.

"I don't just know, Jack," I said. "How are we going to make excuses to your mother?"

"Why we'll just have to tell the truth, Leslie. You didn't know that you would be called to New York when you telegraphed her to come. I'm quite sure that she will be content—at least she should be content with the baby and me until you return."

"You won't be gone long, will you dear? For you know I'm going to be very busy at the office, and you know mother has never gotten over the idea that you should come first even before business. I shall have to be home for meals very promptly, for mother has never been able to understand that anything in my life should come before her."

"That's another thing we women have changed," I said. "We do not make the question of prompt meals such a fetish as our mothers used to, and we are not so jealous of a man's business. We understand that after all, marriage is a business, and as a partner in it, we must work for the interest of all concerned."

"Good Lord, Leslie, are you getting strong minded?"

YANKEES ARE STOPPED FOR DAY AT LEAST

Walter Johnson Holds Them Helpless Until He Is Taken Out of Box

Chicago, May 2.—Walter Johnson, the veteran Washington pitcher, stopped the Yankees' winning streak yesterday, the Senators winning 7 to 2. Johnson, however, pitched but six innings, being relieved by Marberry, of whom the Yankees scored two runs.

Ken Williams, of the St. Louis Browns and Tobin, a former ace, both hit home runs as the Browns developed Detroit, 8 to 7, while the Chicago White Sox won a loose game from Cleveland, 13 to 7. The veteran Jack Quinn pitched the Boston Red Sox to victory over Philadelphia, 5 to 1. Eddie Bonnell Mack's star, was batted out as the Browns won, 10 to 1, Brooklyn beat Philadelphia, 1 to 0, and Pittsburgh took in St. Louis to camp, 8 to 6.

In the American Association, Minneapolis opened at home before a crowd of 9,500, and beat Columbus, 1 to 0. St. Paul scored three in the ninth to beat Toledo, 4 to 3, before an opening day crowd in St. Paul of 8,000.

HARRY HEILMANN, PREMIER BATSMAN OF AMERICAN LEAGUE, NEVER TRIES TO GUESS THE PITCH

BY HARRY HEILMANN
Champion Batter,

American League

The art of batting is a combination of natural ability plus considerable thought and study.

Certain pitchers have a set method of working. Study their style and profit.

Watch carefully the methods and mannerisms of other players regarded as great hitters. I have learned much from Cobb.

Here are some of the angles of batting as I see them. One can always learn something about the art of hitting them safe. Of late years I have made a number of changes in my style which I feel have worked to my great advantage.

Confidence in your ability, feel that you always have a chance to win.

SIMMONS HITS HARD DESPITE FAULTY STANCE

Philadelphia, May 2. Does a correct stance mean much in baseball? In golf it means almost everything. A majority of the great players have almost exactly the same stance.

It is regarded as essential, if the golfer is to get distance and accuracy to his drives. Only a very few unorthodox golfers achieve fame.

Apparently it is different in baseball. Connie Mack says that in Al Simmons he has picked up a youngster who is a good hitter now, and certain to develop into a great one. This may prove true. Mack should know a batter. Yet it is questionable if ever a player came to the big show with a poorer style at the plate.

His stance is all wrong, according to baseball theory. He pulls away on practically every ball, yet seems able to hit them hard and to all fields.

HOLD TRACK MEET

North Dakota Hydro-Electric Assets Shown

Washington, May 2.—"White coal" has possibilities of future development in the United States eight times its present development, the geological survey announced recently in a statement on developed and potential water power of the country.

The present installed capacity of plants of 100 horsepower or more is 9,087,000 horsepower, an increase of about 1,160,000 horsepower, or nearly 15 per cent over 1921.

In its new estimate of potential water power resources, the survey placed Washington first among the states for power available both 50 per cent of the time and 90 per cent of the time. New York is the leading state in developed water power.

The capacity of installed plants and the potential power available 50 per cent of the time, roughly estimated, as given by the survey for the different states includes:

Wisconsin installed 404,282 horsepower and potential 480,000.
Minnesota 211,850 and 401,000.
North Dakota 18,171 and 110,000.
South Dakota 18,171 and 110,000.

Billy Evans Says

Major league ball clubs weak at shortstop seldom get anywhere in the quest for a pennant.

Weakness at that position is a glaring fault that often makes an ordinary ball club out of an aggregation that looks like a pennant contender on paper.

Regardless of where the club ultimately finishes, the early spring term of the Red Sox will stand out as one of the initial thrills of the season.

In the early success of the Boston club, no player has stood out more prominently than Shortstop Dudley Lee.

"He is the greatest shortstop I have ever been teamed with," says Second Baseman Bill Wambach, secured by Boston in a trade with Cleveland.

That is quite a compliment, coming from so fine a ball player as Wambach, who has been shortstopped a number of good shortstops, among them the late Ray Chapman, and Joe Sewell, now playing that position for Cleveland.

Lee, by the way, is the protégé of Manager Fohl of the Boston Red Sox. Fohl developed him as a kid, when he had charge of the St. Louis Browns. He jumped at the chance to purchase him for the Boston club when he took over the reins there.

Prior to the opening of the season, Fohl predicted great things for Dudley Lee inside of a year. Looks as if the youngster is going to cross up his manager by making good from the start.

Lee is the makings of a great ball player because he loves the game and has the winning spirit. This little story will best illustrate what I mean:

In 1922 St. Louis sent him to Columbus in the American Association, then managed by Clarence Rowland, now an American League umpire.

Lee being an optional player, Rowland gave the players owned by the club the preference, hoping to develop them so they might be sold to the majors at a fancy price.

Lee was merely a bench warmer. He didn't like the idea. Realizing why he wasn't being used, he went to Manager Rowland one day and said to him:

"I'm never going to make the big show sitting on the bench. I want to play regularly, and I don't care in what league. See if you can't get the St. Louis club to send me to some team that really needs a shortstop and will give me a chance. I am a big leaguer and the sooner I get a chance to play regularly the quicker I'll prove it."

Lee was sent to Chattanooga in the Southern Association. Then given a year with Tulsa in the Western league. Two years in the minors and he has made good his declaration that he is a big leaguer.

WOULD CURB AUTOS CHASING FIRE WAGONS

A new ordinance to curb the automobile drivers who insist on tearing through the streets following fire fighting apparatus on runs to fires was placed on its first reading by the city commission. The ordinance requires automobile drivers, upon sounding of the fire alarm whistles or approach of "fire engine, police patrol or ambulance" to draw as closely to the right curb as possible and provides fines for persons following such equipment closer than 300 feet.

The ordinance further prohibits parking of cars within 15 feet of fire hydrants and also a clause prohibiting the washing of automobiles on any paved streets in the city. This, it is claimed, is because mud washed from cars chokes up sewers.

A penalty of not more than $100 fine or 30 days in jail or both is affixed for any violations of any of the provisions of the ordinance.

THE ELTINGE

The feature at the Eltinge theatre for today and Saturday is "Flowing Gold" from the story by Rex Beach.

Milton Sills and Anna Q. Nilsson, Calvin Gray and Allogheny Brinklow, supported by Alice Calhoun, Josephine Crowell, Charles Sillon, Bert Woodruff, Cissy Fitzgerald and John Roche.

Author Beach has chosen for the setting of his story a small town in Texas which had been thrown into a furor by the discovery of oil in the vicinity. It immediately becomes the Mecca of fortune-seekers and adventurers of every kind, among whom are Calvin Gray and Henry Nelson. Nelson, a former army officer, had gone there to become rich. Gray had gone to become himself on Nelson because the latter had been dishonorably discharged from the army.

The enmity between the two men is intensified when both fall in love with the same girl. Many attempts are made to "get" Gray, but he frustrates the plots and eventually has the joy of seeing his enemy the loser in the battle of wits.

Widower
Congratulated

"Since my wife's death, five years ago, I have suffered greatly from stomach and liver trouble and gas attacks. I lost over 50 lbs., and at times was as yellow as saffron. My doctors could not help me. Six doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy have entirely cured me. I have regained my weight and every one is congratulating me how well I look." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practical ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

PLEATING
The pleating used this summer in frocks is very fine and very flat and hangs perfectly straight.

FUR COATS
Tailored fur coats for spring are the latest wrinkle. An attractive white fur is made on tailored lines with a notched collar and all the edges are bound with black silk braid.

ENJOYED A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP
"I wish to say that FOLEY PILLS worked O. K. on me in a couple of hours and the pains left me at once. I took a couple of them in the afternoon, went to bed and had a good night's sleep and have slept good ever since," writes Con Thiel, 118E, Columbia St., Fort Wayne, Indiana. FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, will thoroughly flush the kidneys and increase their activity.

TO SHRINE MEETING
Henderson, Dr. Henderson will leave today for Jamestown where Mrs. Henderson will visit for a few days at the home of their son, Dr. C. A. Henderson. THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

PHARMACISTS OF U. S. PLAN FOR BUILDING

Would Have Headquarters Designed to Serve All Drug Stores and Public

New York, May 2.—Five thousand pharmacists throughout the United States are thoroughly organized to conduct a drive to procure one million dollars for a Pharmacy Headquarters Building. The chairman of the campaign committee is Dr. H. A. B. Dunning of Baltimore, Md. Other members of the committee are S. L. Hilton, Washington, D. C., W. Bruce Phillips, San Francisco, E. F. Kelly, Baltimore, and E. L. Newcomb, Minneapolis, Associate Committee member A. M. Hayes, Director of Propaganda, F. C. Bortner, Business Manager, E. F. Kelly, Treasurer, of Baltimore, E. L. Newcomb of the University of Minnesota, Director of Publicity, and Al Falkenhainer of Algona, Iowa, Associate Director of Publicity.

Committeemen have been appointed in every state, city and county in the country. Every branch of the drug business is taking part in the enterprise, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, college professors, board of pharmacy members and drug store clerks.

The city in which the Headquarters Building is to be erected has not yet been mentioned.

According to a statement just issued by Dr. E. L. Newcomb, Director of Publicity, "The Headquarters Building is to be used to promote better drug service to pharmacists and the public. The American Pharmaceutical Association, under whose auspices the campaign is being conducted, was organized in 1852. The Association has been very largely responsible for federal and state drug standards of our present day. These laws are generally recognized as being the most complete and satisfactory measures of the kind to be found anywhere in the world."

The State Bank of Cooperstown, Griggs county, capital stock $30,000, surplus $45,000 and deposits $215,000, and the Postal State Bank, Burke county, capital $10,000, surplus $2,000, deposits $185,000, have closed, according to announcement at the state banking department.

EXPENSE RULE IS ANNOUNCED

State Board of Administration Cuts Down Allowances

The State board of administration today adopted a stringent rule governing expenditures by persons connected with state educational institutions while traveling. The action was taken, according to board members, because two representatives of one institution presented what appeared to be unnecessarily high expense bills for meals and hotel accommodations while on a trip outside the state. Virtually all of the educators and others connected with educational institutions have kept their expenses to a low figure, but the board felt the rule was necessary to curb a very few. Chairman R. B. Murphy explained.

No expense item for a meal to exceed 95 cents will be allowed, nor will charge for Pullman seats be permitted on short trips, and tips will not be allowed, under one rule of the board. Other limitations include: No voucher for traveling expenses will be considered unless the voucher states the reason for the trip and by whom the trip was authorized.

"The mileage used on trip must always be reported.

"When it is necessary to use a taxi, the necessity must be shown on the voucher.

"All office supplies must be purchased through the State Supply Department unless special emergency requires that they be purchased locally."

HARRY HEILMANN, PREMIER BATSMAN OF AMERICAN LEAGUE, NEVER TRIES TO GUESS THE PITCH

BY HARRY HEILMANN
Champion Bateman
The art of batting is a combination of natural ability plus considerable thought and study. Certain pitchers have a set method of working. Study their style and "profile."
A great many catchers have a set system of handling their pitchers. This knowledge can be used to advantage.
Watch carefully the methods and mechanisms of other players regarding their great hits. I have learned much from Cobb.
Here are some of the angles of batting as I see them. One can always learn something about the art of hitting them safe. Of late years I have made a number of changes in my style which I feel worked to my great advantage and confidence in your ability. Feel that you always have the pitcher.

Perfect a good free swing without any hitches, that ends with a follow-through as they say in golf. Such a style gets the weight of the body back of the swing and makes for distance.
A keen eye is as necessary as a good swing. This enables the batsman to look them over carefully and pass up the bad pitches.
All good hitters agree that the proper system is to let every good ball that comes over, except with the count three balls and no strikes. Such a system gives the batsman a decided edge.
I favor having the weight of the body equally distributed on both legs. This stance allows the batsman to step in, if the ball is a trifle outside, or back, if the ball is delivered on the inside of the plate. Many of the best hitters carry the weight entirely on the back foot. I believe equally distributed weight makes it easier to shift and prevents lifting up on the ball to some degree.

Don't Try to Outguess Pitcher
It is very necessary to change your position at the plate for the different pitching you face. For a right-handed hitter when facing left-handed pitching, I favor standing far back in the batter's box and vice versa. A curve ball must break in, and a position far back in the box gives the batsman more time to follow it.
With a pitcher working who depends a great deal on a slow ball, or change of pace, it is well to stand well up in the front of the box.
I am strongly opposed to trying to guess what the pitcher is going to throw. If you guess wrong you are badly crossed up. Be ready for any offering he may serve.
Make every time at bat count. Regardless of conditions, always secure an up Chert with a set intention and seek to carry out your duty. Many a ball game is decided by a base hit.
Work hard and always feel victory is possible until the game is over and the opposition has scored more runs than your side.

Billy Evans Says

Major league ball clubs weak at short stop position get anywhere in the quest for a player.
Weakness at that position is a glaring fault that often makes an ordinary ball club out of an aggregation that looks like a potent contender on paper.
The Boston Red Sox, tailenders in the American league last season, got away to a flying start this spring. Regardless of where the club ultimately finishes, the early spring form of the Red Sox will stand out as one of the initial thrills of the season.
In the early success of the Boston club, no player has stood out more prominently than shortstop Dudley Lee.

"He is the greatest shortstop I have ever been teamed with," says Second Baseman Bill Wambsgange, courted by Boston in a trade with Cleveland.
That is quite a compliment, coming from so fine a ball player as Wambs, who has been associated with a number of good shortstops, among them the late Ray Chapman and Joe Sewell, now playing that position for Cleveland.
Lee, by the way, is the protégé of Manager Fohl of the Boston Red Sox. Fohl developed him as a kid, when he had charge of the St. Louis Browns. He jumped at the chance to purchase him for the Boston club when he took over the reins there.
Prior to the opening of the season, Fohl predicted great things for Dudley Lee inside of a year. Looks as if the youngster is going to cross up his manager by making good from the start.

Lee is the makings of a great ball player because he loves the game and has the winning spirit. This little story will best illustrate what I mean.

In 1922 St. Louis sent him to Columbus in the American Association, then managed by Clarence Rowland, now an American League umpire.
Lee being an optional player, Rowland gave the players owned by the club the preference, hoping to develop them so they might be sold to the majors at a fancy price.
Lee was merely a bench warmer. He didn't like the idea. Realizing why he wasn't being used, he went to Manager Rowland one day and said to him:
"I'm never going to make the big show sitting on the bench. I want to play regularly, and I don't care in what league. See if you can't get the St. Louis club to send me to some team that really needs a shortstop and will give me a chance. I am a big leaguer and the sooner I get a chance to play regularly the quicker I'll prove it."
Lee was sent to Chattanooga in the Southern Association. Then he even a year with Tulsa in the Western league. Two years in the minors and he has made good his declaration that he is a big leaguer.

MANDAN NEWS

WOULD CURB AUTOS CHASING FIRE WAGONS
A new ordinance to curb the automobile drivers who insist on tearing through the streets following fire-fighting apparatus on runs to town was placed on its first reading by the city commission. The ordinance requires automobile drivers upon sounding of the fire alarm whistles or approach of "fire engine, police patrol or ambulance" to draw as closely to the right curb as possible and provides fines for any persons following such equipment closer than ten feet.
The ordinance further prohibits parking of cars within 15 feet of fire hydrants and also a clause prohibiting the washing of an automobile on any paved streets in the city. This, it is claimed, is because mud washed from cars chokes up sewers.
A penalty of not more than $100 fine or 30 days in jail or both is affixed for any violations of any of the provisions of the ordinance.

Milton Sills and Anna Q. Nilsson, Calvin Gray and Allegheny Brackow, supported by Alice Culhoun, Josephine Crowell, Charles S. Allen, Bert Woodruff, Clary Fitzgerald and John Roche.
Author Beach has chosen for the setting of his story a small town in Texas which had been thrown into a furore by the discovery of oil in the vicinity. It immediately becomes the Mecca of fortune-seekers and adventurers of every kind and among them are Calvin Gray and Henry Nelson. Nelson, a former army officer, had gone there to become rich, Gray had gone to avenge himself on Nelson because the latter had been dishonorably discharged from the army.
The enmity between the two men is intensified when both fall in love with the same girl. Many attempts are made to "get" Gray, but he frustrates the plots and eventually has the joy of seeing his enemy the loser in the battle of wits.

WHEELER CASE PROBE ENDED BY COMMITTEE

Blair Coan Tells of Being Sent to Montana to Investigate the Charges

SECURES AFFIDAVIT

Washington, May 2.—Investigation of the charges in the indictment returned against Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, by a federal grand jury in his state, practically was completed last night by the special senate committee.

Blair Coan, the last witness heard, testified that he had been sent to Montana by George B. Lockwood, secretary of the Republican national committee, to investigate the activities not only of Senator Wheeler, prosecutor of the Daugherty committee, but also of another senator. After he left the witness stand Coan said this senator was Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, prosecutor of the oil committee.

Lacks Personal Knowledge
Coan told the committee he had no personal knowledge as to any employment of Senator Wheeler by George Campbell, Montana oil man, to prosecute oil permits before the interior department. He stated that the department of justice had some important documents bearing on the case which might interest the committee. It was agreed that Attorney General Stone would be asked to furnish them.

W. W. Rhea of Idaho Springs, Col., who said he had had an interest in the Phil McGowan permit held by Campbell, testified that he had heard Senator Wheeler say that Campbell and Rhea need not worry about that permit; that this would be all taken care of when he got back to Washington.

Rhea was called as the first witness of the day. Chairman Borah put into the record a letter from Commissioner Spry, of the general land office, saying that an examination of the files of the land office failed to disclose that Senator Wheeler had appeared as counsel in land permit matters.

Promised to Help
Rhea said the statement by Senator Wheeler had been made at a conference at the Rainbow hotel in Great Falls, Mont., on the night of January 15, 1923, and that the main purpose of the conference was to discuss the McGowan permit, which he later declared was then in contest before the interior department.

The witness said he could not state that Campbell had said at that time that Senator Wheeler was employed to look after permits, but he testified that Campbell had stated that the McGowan permit would be fixed up when Senator Wheeler got to Washington and that Senator Wheeler had said that it would be "taken care of."

Campbell was quoted by the witness as having said that if the permit were fixed up, the owners would give Wheeler quite a slice out of it. Rhea's recollection was that Wheeler had made no statement respecting this suggestion.

Coan, who was the third witness of the day, was on the stand only a comparatively short time. He testified he had been employed last March 7 by Secretary Lockwood to write for the National Republican. He went to Montana, he said right after his employment.

Coan Secures Affidavit
Upon arrival in Montana Coan had H. C. Glosser, formerly an employee of Campbell, make an affidavit. Later he went to Denver where Rhea made an affidavit for him. In the first affidavit, Glosser, he said, failed to make a statement about the Rainbow Hotel conference and he obtained a second affidavit from him.

"What did you do with the affidavits after you got them?" asked Senator Borah.

"I mailed them to Mr. Lockwood and he turned them over to the department of justice," Coan replied. "Do you know of your own knowledge anything with reference to the employment of Mr. Wheeler by Mr. Campbell?" asked Chairman Borah.

"I could not be expected to have knowledge of it," Coan replied. "I was not there at the time."

WOULD ORDER OUT COMPANY OF GUARDSMEN

Baton Rouge, La., May 2.—Governor Parker has been asked to order a company of the Louisiana National Guard to Amite on May 9, for duty in connection with the hanging of six Italians for the murder of Dallas Calmes. The Governor declined today to say whether he would do so, but in official quarters it was believed such a course would be followed.

The appeal was made to the governor. It was understood, not because of fear of violence but because it was feared the town would be crowded with residents from all towns of the parish and additional police protection would be necessary. The identity of those communicating with the Governor was not disclosed.

Limitation Of Deductions Proposals Lost

Washington, May 2.—A treasury proposal in the revenue bill limiting tax deductions in relation to income tax securities was rejected today by the Senate, 37 to 36.

While its proponents argued it would bring in $35,000,000 additional revenue annually by checkin tax evasion by holders of large incomes. Receding of tax returns to examine by certain congressional committees was approved without

TRIBUTE PAID TO EDITOR

Many Attend Dreveskracht
Rites at Golden Valley

Golden Valley, N. D., May 2.—A large concourse of friends gathered here yesterday to attend funeral services for L. E. Dreveskracht, editor of the Golden Valley American, who died suddenly last Sunday. The funeral rites were conducted by the Odd Fellows lodge at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the home of the deceased and interment took place in the local cemetery.

L. E. Dreveskracht was born 47 years ago in Sibley county, Minn., where he lived with his parents until 19 years of age. He secured a position with the First National bank in LeSueur, Minn., where he was an assistant cashier for two years. In 1906 he came to Mercer county, North Dakota and took up a homestead near Krem, where he lived for five years. With the building of the railroad and the moving of the town of Krem to Hazen, Mr. Dreveskracht located at the townsite of Golden Valley and established a weekly newspaper.

It was the first newspaper in Mercer county. His little plant was located in a sod shack at the edge of town whereby the light of a dim lamp and with elbow power he labored at the anti-quated hand press to spread the weekly news of the community. His activities prospered and the newspaper plant in recent years had become one of the best equipped country newspapers in the state.

Mr. Dreveskracht was postmaster of Golden Valley for a number of years, served as U. S. Land Commissioner, justice of the peace and member of the school board. He was a member of the Elks lodge and of the Golden Valley I. O. O. F.

He was married in 1913 to Lydia E. Morris, who was then teaching school near Golden Valley and who has since been an active aid in the publication of his paper. Besides the widow there are three children, a girl of 10, boy of 7 and a boy of 3.

Two hours were required for the entire operation.

SAYS HARDING DID NOT O. K. OIL LEASING

Assistant Secretary Says
Search Fails to Reveal Any Such Approval

Washington, May 2.—A search in the records of the interior department has failed to disclose that President Harding authorized Albert B. Fall as interior secretary to lease more than 3,000 acres of land in California naval oil reserve No. 2 to the Honolulu Oil Company, E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the interior, testified before the senate oil committee.

Moreover, the witness said the lease, which is to be the subject later of a special investigation on by the oil committee, had not been approved by Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy, at the time it was executed.

Secretary Finney agreed with Senator Walsh of Montana, the committee prosecutor, that the lease would not be valid without the approval of the president as such approval is required under the terms of the general leasing law.

Reciting some of the circumstances surrounding the granting of the lease, Finney said that during the Wilson administration the Honolulu Company had sought patents to the land which it claimed in reserve No. 2. Secretary Lane gave the matter careful consideration, he said, but did not act "at the request of some one."

SOLDIER BONUS BILL NEARING WHITE HOUSE

Senate Approves Conference Report, Which Is Now
Before the House

Washington, May 2.—The soldiers' bonus bill was before the House today for approval with some minor changes made by the Senate and agreed to be the House conferees to be ratified. Almost without discussion yesterday the Senate ratified the report of its conferees and with minor action of the House and completion of some administrative details the measure will be ready for dispatch to the White House probably tomorrow or Monday.

President Coolidge in his message to Congress declared opposition to a bonus. Although his attitude on this particular bill has not been made known, advocates of the measure in both the House and Senate insist it can be passed over a veto by the necessary two-thirds majority for cash.

SAY WEATHER CAUSE OF CUT IN WHEAT SOWN

Weekly Crop Review of Van Dusen Harrington Company
Cannvases Conditions

The weekly crop review of the Northwest, issued by the Van Dusen Harrington Company, Minneapolis, follows:

"In North Dakota and the eastern part of Montana there have been heavy rains or snows during the past week. These in addition to cold weather have retarded seeding, especially in the Northern districts. In Northern South Dakota the heavy rains have been of great benefit as the soil was extremely dry.

"Our reports from Southern Minnesota and South Dakota indicate that the seeding of wheat and coarse grain is approaching completion. Early sown wheat and some fields of oats and barley are showing green and have a good stand and color. Farmers are plowing for corn and planting will begin in about ten days.

"In North Dakota conditions are not so favorable. In the southern tier of counties the wheat is practically all in the ground and the greater part of the coarse grain has been seeded. In the Central and Northern districts farmers have not been able to work the soil on account of excess moisture. The amount of seeding completed in these districts varies from 45 percent to 75 percent while in the Northwestern part of the state it has just commenced.

"In the Eastern part of Montana seeding is progressing slowly because of the cold and wet weather. The Central and Western parts of the state are very dry. Some seed has failed to germinate in this area.

"Reports from the Judith Basin indicate winter wheat to be in excellent condition.

"Winter rye is spotted and our reports from the principal rice counties of North Dakota indicate a thin stand and no doubt some winter killed fields will be plowed up and planted to corn or flax.

"Generally speaking wet ground and low temperatures have interfered with spring work to such an extent that a considerable decrease will stimulate an increase in the flax acreage where good seed is available."

President Blocks Lease
"Who was it that requested him not to act?" asked Senator Wheeler, Republican, Missouri.

"The president," Finney replied, adding that it was his opinion that had Lane acted he would have granted the patent.

Putting hot ashes in a wooden barrel is just another invitation to fire!

Perhaps your metal ash barrel is full. You must clean out the stove or furnace. An old wooden barrel stands nearby and in go the ashes. A hot coal begins its work. There is a wisp of smoke, a burst of flame, and a ruined house may follow.

Be careful not to give such thoughtless invitations to disaster and be sure and insure with this agency of the Hartford Fire, Insurance Company.

109 KNOWN TO BE DEAD FROM SOUTH'S STORM

Death List May be Increased With Demise of Many of The Injured

Atlanta, Ga., May 2.—(By the A. P.)—With the number of dead definitely placed at 109, reconstruction and relief measures were being put into effect in portions of southeastern states which were laid waste by wind storms of unparalleled intensity.

Not until outcome of injuries to all is determined can the final death toll be given, but it is believed that all fatalities in the stricken area have been listed.

Communication in many places was not restored until yesterday.

The injured, of whom many will not recover, number 500 while those made homeless in the disaster run to thousands. Preliminary estimates of $100,000,000 damage to property may be exceeded when complete reports are compiled.

Early today the known dead was divided as follows: South Carolina 73; Georgia 14; Alabama 11; North Carolina 5; Virginia, Louisiana and Arkansas each one.

ALFALFA ON EVERY FARM

The farm where no alfalfa is grown misses the opportunity of securing a most valuable feed at low cost, and a crop that has great merit in a forward-looking scheme of crop rotation.

Because cutting costs and preserving the fertility of the soil are of great importance in North Dakota today, the City National Bank urges the growing of alfalfa on every farm in Burleigh County and adjoining counties.
